Issued: July 10, 2007 Effective: July 10, 2007

Exhibit C

AT&T Ohio hereby revises Part 2, Section 8, of its AT&T Ohio Tariff P.U.C.O. No. 20, to amend a previously filed application extending the expiration date on a residential access line promotion. On December 28, 2006, AT&T Ohio filed an application seeking to extend the expiration date of the "Residential Additional Access Line Winback Waiver Offer" until December 31, 2007. It was just discovered that the "Residence Line Win/Winback Promotion" is the promotion that should have been extended rather than the "Residential Additional Access Line Winback Waiver Offer." Today's filing is being made to correct this matter and to ensure that the tariff reflects an extension on the appropriate offer. As such, in today's filing, the expiration date that was inadvertently extended for the "Residential Additional Access Line Winback Waiver" will be changed back to its original expiration date – December 31, 2006 and the expiration date of the "Residence Line Win/Winback Promotion" will be changed to reflect the originally intended extension to December 31, 2007.

The CLEC notification made in November 2006 correctly referenced the "Residence Line Win/Winback Promotion" and CLECs have been offered the benefit of the "Residence Line Win/Winback Promotion" since the December 28, 2006 filing was made. In addition, even though the incorrect promotional tariff sheet was modified in the December 28, 2006 filing, the terms of the "Residence Line Win/Winback Promotion" have been offered to AT&T Ohio customers and as such, all win/winback access lines were afforded the benefit of the waiver of normally applicable nonrecurring Service Ordering, Central Office Connection and Line Connection Charges rather than only additional lines as provided in the "Residential Additional Access Line Winback Waiver Offer." Today's tariff filing will restore consistency between the promotional offer and the associated tariff sheet.

Prior customer notification for promotions is not required.
