COMMENT DESCRIPTION:

Our house is a 4 bedroom, 2 story. We have propane heat which is outrageously expensive! At least I can understand what I am being charged for with the propane. The electric costs are ridiculously high when I factor in all the extra charges for delivery,, transition(?), generation related component(?), and transmission related component(?!! All these extra fees seem quite redundant to me. We've found that there is no choice here for our electric provider. The "Ohio Electric Choice Program" is not doing us any good. As far as we can see, First Energy has a monopoly here and they are taking full advantage of this!
