Docketing Case No.:08-0709-EL-AIR

Notes:

Why does Duke Energy Company, which just raised electric rates as approved by the PUCO justify another rate increase? Fact is, the riders on their billing statements cover them for fuel cost fluctuations, so it's a no lose situation for Duke. Ever since they took over from CG&E all we've heard from them is increased rates. Enough already. The PUCO is supposed to be a watchdog group, not a rubber stamp! Besides that, their per customer service fee is way out of line.
