RE: AEP Proposed Rate Increase

DATE: October 15, 2008

- Please note that I am opposed to this because I am retired on a fixed income that does not increase but I face significant cost increases for gasoline, heating & cooking fuel, food, taxes, and other necessary expenses, such as utilities.

- A 450% increase (5% / year) is stark. The Consumer Price Index is not justified or prudent, as a more than 40-year customer, I've not been provided any AEP info on why this increase is justified or prudent. I do oppose the possible detrimental effects which would cost even more.

Sincerely,

James M. Jennings
