Simply ask you to tell me what it is, A. This is my resume. Q. And it's accurate and complete as far as you know? A. Accurate and complete in October 2008. Q. Exhibit 55 is a copy of an article from April 2006 Public Utilities Fortnightly. A. Yes. Q. That apparently you were one of the authors of; is that correct? A. Yes, this is correct. Q. And can you tell me what pertinence or relevance, if any, to this matter that that article has? A. Basicaliy it shows that I have been involved in rate design issues in the years of my career. And this is one of the areas that we have exchanged ideas and experiences, particularly when we | Page 6 |

That was a joint product and I would like to break it down again in two parts in order to see exactly what I did contribute to it and whether I still agree with it or not. Q. Exhibit 56 is a copy of an article titled "Temporary substitution to Independent Regulation in the Electricity Sector - Application of International Practices." A. Yes. Q. It's dated in 2004. A. Correct. Q. Is that one that you authored, sir? A. Yes, it is. Q. Was that published? A. That was published? A. That was published in the proceedings of this particular conference, which is the Power Generation Conference of the Middle East for 2004. Q. The final one I have to hand you is an article titled "Beyond the Single Buyer Model - Towards a Functioning Competitive Electricity Market." Is that another that you authored? A. This is correct, sir. Q. And I'm sorry, what is the date of that one? A. 2006, February 2006. Q. Was that published in connection with a conference? A. This is indeed Power-Gen Conference for 2006. Q. What pertinence does that one have to this matter? A. Very similar to the previous article. Q. Do the views you express in that remain the same as those views you have today? A. Generally, yes. There are other areas in which maybe I would change my opinion in it. | Page 8 | 1 2 3 4 5 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24 25 | or since you have been in the analytics department within OCC, have you specialized in any areas? A. I specialized in areas related to aggregation and regarding the section of economic development. Because of my degree and my experience, I became responsible for this particular section in DP&L. Q. But I take it while you've been in the analytics department with Consumers' Counsel you've specialized in aggregation. Anything else? A. I worked in aggregation in one case. I am also expected to work in the near future in areas that are related to rate design and cost of service. Q. If you look at page 2 of your testimony? A. Yes. Q. And I'm looking at the answer that ends on lines 8 and with the phrase "economic development initiatives." A. Yes. Q. Can you tell me what your prior experience has been with those? A. In approximately 1992, '93, '94, and the early part of '95, B.C. Hydro was keen to assist the province of British Columbia, the state of British Columbia, to see if we can extend the economic | Page 11 |

Are the views that you expressed in that ones that you hold today? A. I would like to repeat the same answer again if I may, and generally speaking, yes, although there could be some areas where my experience I have acquired since 2004, which is the date of this particular publication, has caused me to change my opinion. Q. Thank you. A. My pleasure. Q. Do you have a copy of your own testimony handy to look at? A. Yes, I do. Q. On page 1, couple of questions about your background. When you say on line 15 you "worked as an independent consultant with several entities," can you tell me what those were? A. Yes. In United States I worked with Bearing Point, I worked with London Economics in Boston, and with IPA Energy which is a Scottish firm in Scotland. Q. You said that you were this is line 19, that you were with Enron Corporation from 1997 to 2001. | Page 9 | 1 2 3 4 5 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 12 22 23 24 25 | development initiatives to the industrial base in British Columbia. And the initiatives that I reference here were related to the work I have done during that particular period. Q. So that was with the B.C. Hydro that you reference on page 1 of your line 20? A. This is one of the functions that I have done when I was in British Columbia. Q. And were there particular economic development initiatives that you worked on or developed yourself? A. Yes, there were initiatives that were contemplated and initiatives that were studied during that particular period. Q. Were these for residential consumers, non-residential consumers? A. For non-residential consumers. Q. Did any of those initiatives take root, in other words, actually get implemented? A. No. Q. Was your work on any of those initiatives one that involved issues of cost recovery? A. All of them involved addressing the Issue of cost recovery. | Page 12 |
| 1 2 3 4 4 5 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24 25 | A. Yes. Q. What were your duties there? A. I was a manager, then a director in Enron. My manager is divided broadly into two categories. I was part of Enron International and then I became part of Enron Corp., and my duties are outlined very succinctly in the document that's an exhibit here. Q. Your resume? A. Correct. I did not number but if you go to page 2, if you go to director. Q. I see. A. It lists very succinctly the functions that I have done. Q. Was it the same functions when you were director as when you were a manager? I ask that because Exhibit 2 I'm sorry, Exhibit 54 on page 2 has the heading "Director, Regulatory Affairs." A. Yes. Q. And your testimony refers you to being a manager. A. By and large, yes, when I became a director I became responsible for a group of colleagues in a team to do a specific function. Q. When you are in the analytics department | Page 10 | 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24 25 | Q. And did you make or develop yourself proposals for cost recovery in connection with any of those initiatives? A. Yes. Q. And what did you propose in the way of cost recovery? A. Basically the designs that were proposed at that particular time were aiming at asking the receiver of this particular benefit to pay the cost of it, i.e., if customer A receives a specific benefit towards the end of providing this particular benefit, this customer would pay its cost. Q. Is there anything else you can tell me about the economic development initiatives that you refer to on lines 8 and 9? A. Can you be more specific, please? Q. Yes. I noticed this was quite a while ago. If you have other details, fine. If those are lost to memory A. I do have other details in mind. Q. Okay. Let me give you a better question then. Can you describe for me what the economic development initiatives were that you worked on? A. Two specific initiatives come to mind. | Page 13 |

An example, an aluminum smelter, there is an international price for the ingot they produced. It is cyclical and, therefore, the price that they would pay is going to be cyclical following the price on the border, and towards the end of the period is going to be a trueing up mechanism and the customer would pay at the end of the period the full cost of the commodity that this particular producer used. Q. Simply for the other economic development initiative, can you describe that? A. What do you mean, you want another example? Q. Yes. I thought you said in your last answer there were two. A. Yes, yes, there are two. Q. And you gave me a good general description of the first one. A. The other is that this tries to follow the acid conversion cycle of a producer loosely defined here, require to confer cash to cash. As an example, you have cash, you buy | 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24 25 | Q. Readily accessible? A. Yes. MR. FARUKI: I'll make a request for that. I told Mike this morning I would just send an e-mall afterwards with whatever. MS. ROBERTS: Okay, thank you. MR. FARUKI: With whatever requests there were. Q. Page 3, at the part of your answer that begins on line 12, "I also reviewed parts" A. Yes. Q. Those opinions of the Commission that you are talking about on lines 12, 13, and 14, were from rate cases in 1991 and 1995; is that right? A. This is correct. Q. You would agree with me that those cases are rather old and are pre-deregulation, right? A. I agree that they are pre-deregulation. But I would like to say that they are relevant to our case, and therefore, the term "old" to me is not really clear in my mind what constitutes "old." Q. You agree with me that there have been a lot of changes to the economy in Ohio since that period of time? A. Depends upon the change. The issues that | Page 17 |
| 1 2 3 4 4 5 6 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24 25 | commodities, you manufacture, you assemble it, you market it, you sell it, and then you collect. This can take a period. If you are, for instance, a ship builder, this could be a three-year process. Accordingly, the price of the commodity would start at the low level and then go at the high level towards the end of the cash conversion cycle, or vise-versa as the case may be, so that to take into consideration the cash flow of that activity in question. At the end of the cash conversion cycle, i.e., when this particular producer gets the cash back, there was going to be a trueing up mechanism and this particular customer is going to pay the cost of what he has received Q. Did either of those initiatives that you've just described involve some plan or component of recovery by the utility of its costs for the initiative? A. It was one of the objectives that the other rate payors should not pay for the cost of these particular plans. And, therefore, the initiatives was trying to be, for lack of better terms, designed or | 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24 25 | have been looked into in this particular case are issues related to cost recovery of economic development initiatives. When I was referencing cases related to that. Q. Did you make a study of the economy in Ohio insofar as it was pertinent to economic development initiatives in the first half of the 1990s compared to today? A. I did not make a study. I tried to get a reasonable sample of the Commission opinions and orders regarding that. Q. Do you know who proposed those economic development programs? A. It is indicated by the case and the name case studies in each case in question. Q. Do you know as you sit here? A. As you can see from line No. 13 and page No. 3, Cincinnati Gas & Electric, Cleveland Electric, and Toledo Edison. Q. Are you saying those utilities were the ones that proposed the programs? A. They proposed the programs. Q. So it was proposed by the utility as opposed to being mandated by state law? A. I wouldn't characterize it that way. | Page 18 |
| 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24 25 | engineered so that to ensure that. It is important to highlight Q. I'm sorry, I wasn't sure you were finished. You paused, go ahead. A. It is important to highlight B.C. Hydro is a Crown corporation, is being owned by the Province of British Columbia. And, therefore, being paid by B.C. Hydro or paid by the Province, these are the shareholders and these particular shareholders, namely the Province, are representative of the users. Q. On page 2 still, line 12, you refer to an affidavit being provided in the FERC docket. A. Yes. Q. When we were off the record you started to describe something about that affidavit to me. Is that affidavit available publicly? A. Yes, sir. If you go to yes, sir. And if you go to the library or what we used to call FERC in the old days under the number, you should Q. Do you have a copy of it? A. At the moment, no, sir. Q. I don't mean with you in this room, but do you have a copy accessible to you? A. Yes. | 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 42 5 | They are in relation to a specific setup that made them fight for it. Put it in their application. Q. I'm not sure what you mean when you say that. I'm trying to simply ask you a question were the programs that were involved in the cases you're citing proposed by the utility, the electric distribution utility, or were they required by state law? A. I don't think that this is what I looked into. I was looking specifically into how did they recover the cost. Q. So you don't know. A. I looked exactly on how did they recover a specific program that they have put forward. Q. But you don't know the answer to my question; is that right? I just want my record to be clear that you do not know whether or not the programs that were at issue in those cases were proposed by the electric utility or required by state law. A. I'm speculating here, and I don't think that they came out of the one accord. Q. But you're guessing. A. The fact is that there have been requests for splitting revenue. | Page 19 |

| 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24 25 | Q. Well, I'll tell you I don't want you to guess in this deposition. If you know, that's fine. If you don't know, that's fine. Either way, tell me. But I don't want to ask questions that will cause you to guess or speculate. Fair enough? A. Fair. Thank you. Q. At the bottom of the page "What is the purpose of your testimony," you say on line 22 "I performed an analysis of the economic development plan" A. Yes. Q. " and the treatment of governmental aggregation" A. Yes. Q. How did you go about that analysis? A. I did understand the application thoroughly. For the relevant parts of it I tried to break down the components and subcomponents. I tried to understand how did they come up with the cost of the program. I tried to understand how do they come up with the recovery mechanism that they are proposing. And I tried to understand to what extent the reasonableness of what | Page 20 | 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24 25 | risks that DP&L may see as customers coming back to their standard service offer. Q. Should customers that are taking service by means of a government aggregation program be treated differently from other customers that shop? A. Similar customers should be treated similarly. Q. Are you saying that customers who take service from government aggregation are similar to some other group of customers? A. If they are similar to the other group of CRES taking service from CRES, does the question include — can you read me the question again please. (Record read.) A. Can you be more specific, what do you mean "other group of customers"? Q. Yes, I'm trying to figure out what you mean when you say "similar customers should be treated similarly." How does that relate to my question as to why people taking service by means of government aggregation should or should not be permitted to shop? A. Government aggregation or a CRES, to me doesn't make any difference in the sense they are | Page 23 |
| 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24 25 | the company has found. Q. These were things you were doing or steps you were taking based on your review of the company's filing or parts of the company's filing? A. Correct. Q. On page 4, line 12, you refer to tariff sheet G23, and your recommendation that it be incorporated into this proceeding. A. This is correct. Q. Your thought there I take it is that it would be reviewed by the parties as well as by the PUCO? A. When you mean can you rephrase the question, because it means several things in my mind. Q. Sure. You say on line 12 that one of your recommendations is that this tariff be incorporated into this proceeding. What do you mean by that? A. It's going to be part of this particular proceeding so that it can be reviewed by the Commission and the relevant parties. As well as with DP&L, of course. Q. Can you tell me the basis of your second recommendation which begins on line 13? A. Yes, and this is related to and part of | Page 21 | 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24 25 | taking service from a third party, alternative party, vis-a-vis that DP&L, whether this party is a government aggregator or a CRES. This is exactly my answer. So if those taking service from aggregation are similar to those taking service from a CRES, they all should be treated the same. Q. Still on the same topic can you explain to me why customers should be given the option or the choice for fixed or market based rates? In other words, from an economic perspective wouldn't it make sense for customers to know the terms and conditions at which they will be returning before they decide to switch to either a CRES provider or take service by means of aggregation? It was kind of long question, you want that read back? A. Yeah. (Record read.) A. I would like to make my answer specific to what is in DP&L at the moment. Q. That's fine. A. A customer at the moment who is taking service from a CRES or an aggregator is paying a | Page 24 |
| 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 12 22 23 24 25 | my answer to question 26 on page 21, sir. Q. Okay. I didn't want you to read that to me, I just want you to explain to me in your own words what the basis is for your second recommendation about self selecting either the standard service offer or the market based rate. MS. ROBERTS: I'll object, I think that question's asked and answered. His testimony is his answer. Q. Fair enough. Go ahead and answer my question. A. The basis of this particular communication is that if the customer is paying a rate stabilization surcharge, that it is actually compensating the incumbent utility in this case, DP&L, for the cost — the customer, since this customer was paying it, should have the option to self select when they come out of service with the negative reader or CRES to take service and service offer or market. Q. I think my question is why should they have that choice. A. They do have — I'm recommending this choice because they are paying the incumbent utility, DP&L, a surcharge that will compensate DP&L for the | Page 22 | 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24 25 | specific rider that is a POLR charge. That should give this customer the right to choose whether to go back at market rate or government aggregation. And since you have asked that question, sir, and since you have assumed that they should know the terms and conditions in which they can come back to service, is that part of the question? Q. Yes. I wasn't assuming that, I was asking whether you thought that it made sense that they should know that. A. And this is one of the reasons why I'm asking for tariff sheet G23 to be part of this particular proceeding, so that the terms and conditions with which the customer will know exactly how to take service from a market base rate should be known before making the decision. Q. Although sorry, were you done? A. Yes. Please, go ahead. Q. But the tariff sheet for a market based rate, would you expect that that tariff sheet would include price terms? A. I would expect that it would include how the price would be determined. But not specifically in terms of cents per kilowatt hour. Q. We'll go back to the beginning then. | Page 25 |

Do you have any criticism of the notion that cost recovery would begin on the day that the plan went into affect? A. The sentence that begins "Furthermore, a stable and more predictable rider" A. Yes. Q. I take it you use these words to indicate that that's a goal that you think we should have that the rider be stable and predictable? A. As much as technically possible, yes. Q. Then if you go back to page 6, line 9, you suggest that "The cost recovery rider shall be revised twice a year" That seems to be cutting against or working against the notion of a stable predictable rider. Why are you suggesting twice a year? A. This is a complex question and it has a lot of assumptions that I may or may not agree with. Can you please restate? | Page 30 |

That term "delta revenue" is a composite term. It is the cost of the difference in rates plus the cost of other administrative costs plus an offset of any benefits. And if there is an offset that is a take of the benefits that will accrue to the utility as a result of economic development, this subtracted for delta revenue and therefore delta revenue is inclusive of the offset, then the utility is entitled to recover that delta revenue as defined with the offset. If it was possible, yes. Q. Do you think it's possible today? A. On a case-by-case basis it is possible to come up with estimates of possible savings. Q. But those figures to do those estimates aren't in existence today, are they? A. It is safe to say that the Commission is also aware of the complexity of arriving at these particular cost savings and this is why the Commission historically has taken a 50/50 split. Q. You are referring to line 22 on page 10; am I right? Q. Yes, sir. A. This particular statement is in relationship to a sentence that started on line 20, and it is referring to the benefits that will accrue to participating and non-participating customers of the economic development plan, and the plan is going to benefit directly and indirectly. A. What I have stated before is that there's going to be increased sales that is going to result in increased benefits to those who are benefiting from it directly and indirectly, and that includes DP&L, and the benefits and the costs should be shared. Q. Take a look at page 12. A. Yes. Q. Question 11, you are asked about some past PUCO cases, right? A. Question 11 on page 7, sir? Q. I'm sorry, question 17, on page 12. You're asking about some PUCO cases, right? A. Right. Q. The case numbers are 1991 and 1995 and 1994. A. Yes. Q. And then you are asked to provide a synopsis of the Commission's orders, right? A. Correct. Q. But you told me you're not a lawyer and | Page 56 | 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24 25 | they are ten, 15 years ago, they are still relevant today. Because at the end of the day, it is a recovery of a cost of a specific practice. Q. So does that mean that what you did in your, to use your word, synopsis of Commission orders A. There are two synopsis; is it question 18 or question 19? Q. It's still question 18. What you did is to ignore the more recent 4905.31 that I gave you in Exhibit 58. A. I'm not ignoring, and although that this is a strictly legal opinion, my understanding is what I have quoted you are relevant because it's a recovery of delta revenue. Q. So you are calling this strictly a legal opinion? A. In reference to the applicability of the exhibit that you gave me, of course I would consider it a legal opinion. Q. Do you consider what you have in your synopsis in answer 18 on page 13 legal material? A. It is based on my understanding and reading of the Opinion and Orders cited in the testimony, and I have shared my opinion with the | Page 59 |

And I reviewed it as an economist. Q. You agree with me that these are matters of faw that you're reciting here? A. Including law, yes. Q. And the cases that you're citing are from the first half of the 1990s? A. Correct. Q. The fatest case being from apparently 1995; is that right? A. In the historical context, yes. But then in the subsequent question I go to more recent. Q. I'll get there in a minute. A. Sure. Q. But right now the latest case you're talking about on 12 and 13 is 1995? A. Correct. Q. Are you saying that this comes from them? A. No, I'm not saying that this comes from them. I'm saying that this is my testimony and this is my opinion. Q. And then you go on page 14 to the prepared testimony from 1995 of D. Howard on the Commission staff? A. Correct. Q. Do you think there have been any significant changes in the economy in DP&L's service territory since this time? MS. There was a second bill then that was passed, Senate Bill 221 in 2008, right? A. Yes. Q. Do you think in terms of your analysis that the section we looked at before, 4905.31(E) that allows for, quote, recovery of revenue foregone as a result of any such program, end of quote, should be more pertinent to your analysis than these cases from 13 or 14 years ago or more? A. I do not think so. I am focusing on the issue of the delta revenue and the recovery of delta revenue. There is a specific initiative that is being put forward in front of the Commission and the issue of the recovery is at stake. The issues are the same and although that | | 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24 25 | between the shareholders and the rate payors, the changes that have taken place over a period of time may not have been significant. Q. Let's talk about some of those. You're aware that two of DP&L's major customers have recently made announcements that they are shutting down facilities where tens of thousands of workers work? A. I am not familiar with these specific two customers. But I'm familiar with the economic delta in the area particularly recently, and by "recently" I mean the last year or so. Q. Do you know about the General Motors plant closings in Dayton's service territory? A. Do you believe that limiting DP&L's ability to recover delta revenues will encourage additional economic development arrangements? MS. ROBERTS: I'm going to object. That was asked and answered, that very question. Q. Go ahead. A. The suggested treatment and the recommendation on the suggested treatment of the economic development plan and the recovery of the rider in the recommendations put forward in my testimony does not affect the ability of DP&L to recover its plan. Because it's trying to be fair to those who benefit whether they are the participating party or non-participating customers or DP&L. Q.
