To Whom This May Concern,

We have recently been made aware of, and are concerned about, the possibility of additional increase in our electricity bills.

If the proposed electric security plan, filed by the Dayton Power and Light, should be adopted by other electric suppliers, how high will our monthly bills eventually become? Those of us on a fixed, retirees income are already finding it difficult to make ends meet, hence we are very interested in this proposal and wondering how it will affect us.

We are counting on you to have the good of all consumers uppermost before making any decisions.

Also, we are wondering what assurances there would be for utility customers that rate increases designed to pay for system upgrades will result in improvements to reliability of electric service; and what would the consequences be if the electric utility fails to improve its service?

We will attentively be watching the results of the upcoming scheduled hearings.

Sincerely,

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Everett
