COMMENT DESCRIPTION:

Why does Duke Energy keep telling us we need to conserve energy when they are in the energy business? I believe they are on a campaign to charge us more for our electric and gas rates as we conserve.

I believe they want us to use less, so that they can charge us more per unit, to increase their profits.

Do not approve the latest rate increase. With this recession, the price of coal is down and our electric prices should somewhat coincide with that. Duke should be lowering our electric rates, not increasing them.

Thank You - Jeff Jansen
