Hi,
I am one of the upset First Energy customers. Today I read that First Energy plans to charge businesses more to help subsidize the discount rates. First Energy requires your approval. What kind of crap is that? First of all my house hold is no charity case. I pay an average of $6000.00 a year in property taxes. Secondly First Energy Guaranteed discounts to promote all electric homes. So now we are going to punish other companies like mine because of First Energy's commitments to its users in all electric homes. If you vote in favor of this then you really need a new career path. First Energy profited about 1 billion dollars from 2009. Why don't you do your job and mandate they invest in new infrastructure and build some power plants instead purchasing existing infrastructure that adds no additional capacity. Start using your head and get it out of the sand.
Alan R. Georgio
