Dear Commissioners:

Broken Promises, Lies, and Deception!
He purchased an "All Electric Home" in late 1976 and moved into "All Electric Home" in July 1977. We were told we would be "Grandfathered In" for "LIFE." He didn't have an option for gas because no gas lines were on our street. No gas lines were being built in the late 70's. Gas lines are still on our end of Newcomb even today, the cost of changing to gas is not prohibitive given our financial situation.
We were a young family who we purchased our home & struggled. Now we are a retired couple trying to live on a fixed income, our electric bills for just 2 people are unbelievable.
Unfortunately, we not only pay for electric heat, but hot water heater eat a tremendous amount of electric. Then of course we also have electrical appliances, TV's etc, that gas line owners use.
I will be 78, my husband 81 when the Grandfathered In Discount ends. How do we pay for this electrical expense?
I guess we weren't "GRANDFATHERED IN" for LIFE were we?

Sincerely,

Ernest Schwartz
