Docketing Case No.: 10-0176-EL-ATA

Notes: As a residential customer I have to evaluate my bottom line cost per kWh of my total bill. Here is MY "Apples to Apples comparison" from my past and current January bills from 2008, 2009, and 2010 respectively: $.0703 per kWh, $.0749 per kWh and $.1224 per kWh. A 74% increase in 2 years! Why does the "Distribution Related Component", "Customer Charge", "Transition Charge" and "Cost Recovery Charges" total more than the supplier charge for my electricity use?

Please docket the attached in the case number above.
