Docketing Case No.: 10-0176-EL-ATA

Notes: Additional information shows that The Illuminating Co. guaranteed the all-electric home discount forever. The discount was to be attached to the house. The Cleveland Plain Dealer stated they have written information builders were given a financial incentive to build all-electric homes. When gas was extended to all -electric home areas, First energy created an aggressive marketing program to persuade home owners to stay all-electric and not add gashookups to their homes. Therefore, you must make this original discount permanent and stay with the house forever. First energy can not have it both way's.
