Docketing Case No.: 10-0176-EL-ATA

Notes: I am writing to force First Energy to keep the promise they made to all-electric home customers that they would receive a discount for purchasing an all-electric home. This past winter's heating bills skyrocketed to the point where I had little money left for anything else. While I was able to pay my bills (thankfully), there are people (senior citizens on fixed incomes, and those who have lost their jobs) that could be forced into dire situations over these increased rates. First Energy reneging on their promise could cause a whole new wave of foreclosures, people who are trying to sell their homes and can't and those who can't afford to heat them any longer. If they promised a forever discount, they should deliver a forever discount. With the recession we are in, people, those working and those not, cannot afford to be raked over the coals they way we are. Increased taxes and fees on everything, and now this?? Stand up for the homeowner.

I reference Case No. 10-176-EL-ATA.

Thank you,
Debbie Kerchenski
