COMPLAINT DESCRIPTION:

Please log this in Docket for Case # 10-176

What is the status of the All-Electric Case? What is the status of the PUCO's report and when will the Public Hearings be held? Also, will a permanent decision be reached by September 30?

It is very critical for the PUCO to consider the broken promises, breached contracts, and monetary enticements FirstEnergy made over the last 30 years in order to entice over 200,000 All-Electric homes to be built in Ohio. The PUCO must consider the fault of FirstEnergy in order to adequately assess who must pay for the discount to be continued to the all-electric customer. The discount must continue for the AE customer, but it must not be fully paid by other residential and industrial customers. FirstEnergy is at fault for creating this problem and must be held accountable for paying for the continuation of the discount.
