Docketing Case No.: 10-176-EL-ATA

Notes:

Good customers should be rewarded, not penalized for being 'all electric'. First Energy stepped up in the 70's because the 'gas company' would not dig new lines, builders and new home owners were offered 25% discount for LIFE! Although some of us jumped on this wagon late, we should not be punished for having one utility, nor should my neighbor pay the percent I am not paying! The power companies should not pass on THEIR short comings to the consumer, they should figure out how to use all the power they produce. The consumer uses about 10 % of the power generated. Is it our fault the power company has not figured out how to store or produce only what is used? Is it fair they sell our power out of state at a rate less than we are paying? and Shouldn't the 'all electric' status belong to the home and not the home owner? Who would want to move here with the energy problems we have?
