RECEIVED

To the Chairman, P.D.C.O. NOV 01 2010

Dear Mr. Schriber,

Office of Chairman
P.U.C.O.

I attended the meeting held at Strongsville High School on Wednesday, October 29, and had hoped to present my feelings about this distressing situation. Unfortunately I was a little late arriving due to a parking problem at the school (a football game was scheduled the same evening) and I missed putting my name on the list to speak. So, as suggested during the evening, I enclose a copy of my thoughts on paper; I do not use or own a computer so I hope you can read this, my writing is not what it used to be!

My daughter has, however, obtained an E-mail address for me on her computer; hopefully I will be able to stay informed that way - it is tortbaydreamer@aol.com

Thank you for your help, and hoping this can be resolved to everyone's satisfaction

Yours sincerely, Jean M. ^{Gold Fibre} Gabbett

Finally, the difficulty currently arising for people attempting to sell their all electric homes while this situation is unresolved is enormous and most unfair, as is the potential loss of revenue for our city. I have no plans to sell my home in the foreseeable future and I hope that I will be able to live out my life right here. However, as I approach my eighties, I have to face the fact that health issues, physical or mental, may make this impossible, in which case I would need to sell my home in order to meet today's enormous cost of long term care. If the current resistance to all electric homes remains and lower values persist, my chances of finding good, affordable care will certainly diminish greatly. What a very bad situation to anticipate.

My husband and I bought the above residence in 1994 when he retired, in order to provide us with a home that was both physically and financially comfortable for our remaining years. As we were not the original owners, we did not deal directly with Bob Schmitt Homes, but we were made aware of the considerable financial advantage of owning an all electric home by the previous owners, and that was a big inducement in our decision to purchase.

My husband died in 2001. At that time we lived on Social Security and his pension.

However, the life of the pension was for just ten years following his date of death which means that in February of next year,^{2011^R} my total income will be reduced by one third. I do not have any debt; however, the loss of that money will mean considerable economizing at a time when the cost of many necessities - food, health care etc. ^{Gold Prices} are increasing every year. The permanent elimination of the All Electric Home discount will definitely add a considerable strain on my efforts to live within my means.

Turning the thermostat down is the only real solution since gas is not available in the Meadowood development; however I would mention here that as one ages, staying warm becomes more of a problem. Temperatures which were comfortable in one's 50's and 60's aren't nearly so when one is closing in on 80. An extra sweater doesn't always do the job when the surrounding air is chilly.
