COMPLAINT DESCRIPTION:

This is a complaint against the Ohio Public Utilities Commission about outrageous new regulations being imposed on businesses using vehicles under 26,000 lbs. As if complying with motor carrier rules for heavy trucks was not onerous enough, you now extent these rules to medium duty vehicles also. It is clear this is not about safety, but about money. The simple fact that you are doing this to secure grant money for enforcement, which translates to fines is all that this is about. This is the United States of America and the fact that a state government agency is imposing regulations on businesses to secure grant money is a outrage to say the least.
