I think it is sad that AEP is having a rate increase as of Jan. 1, 2012. Don't the American people have enough burden trying to pay their bills and live on what is left. Give us a break. Everything is up and now AEP wants to make it worse. Staying on a budget with a fixed income is almost impossible today. Yes, Social Security is giving its seniors a 3.6 percent raise the first of the year. I understand Medicare will be taking 0.9 percent of that. Now AEP wants a 17 percent distribution rate increase. God help Us.
