COMMENT DESCRIPTION:

I have a major concern about how the commission is handling the current AEP case. The commission should be above politics and focus objectively on the long term interest of all types of customers and the long term economic health of Ohio. The recent orders and reorders suggest the commission may not have a long term vision or plan to achieve that vision. AEP has served us well for 100 years and is a key element of the Ohio economy. If Ohio is not attractive for continued AEP investment we will end up a lot like California and Texas with volatile prices and poor reliability that will not be attractive to energy intensive industry.
