COMMENT DESCRIPTION:

I think the PUCO has become a rubber stamp for companies to raise prices!!! How in the world can you justify a 5% increase in electric when costs and inflation is at only 3% or less! Awww did you feel sorry that the CEO made so much money last year??? Does everyone need to get large raises??? Raising the costs of utilities should never be done!! Utility is a constant...all capital improvements should be within their budget..and when disaster strikes, they should be able to receive fed funding help! Why can I not ask you for a raise for myself to pay these God awful high utilities?? Is it enough that our seniors are having to kill themselves by going with out heat and air condition just so you big whigs can have your fancy houses..well I hope someday when you are older, you have to live on your retirement, someone doesn't have any mercy on you and you will have to suffer like the rest of us...I had a big paying job too till someone decided to screw it up!
