Re: In the Matter of the Application of Ohio Power Company and Columbus Southern Power Company Not for An Increase in Rates, Case No. 11-531-EL-ATA

Examiner Parrot:

This docket was initiated to establish a market-based rate for customers that return to standard service offer from being served by a CRES provider, where the customer had avoided paying the provider-of-last-resort charge by agreeing to return at a market-based rate. Because the provider-of-last-resort charge has been terminated and there is no longer a need to establish a market-based rate for such customers, the issue presented in this docket is moot. Accordingly, Ohio Power Company (and its predecessor, Columbus Southern Power Company) hereby withdraws without prejudice the application.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.
