EXHIBIT C

Exhibit C

The applicant, Middle Point Home Telephone Company ("Middle Point"), requests authorization from the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio ("Commission") of a mechanism that would permit Middle Point to adjust Residential Basic Local Exchange Service ("Residential BLES") rates on thirty days' notice to the Commission and its BLES customers. Based on that mechanism, Middle Point also seeks authorization to amend Section No. 1, Second Revised Sheet No. 2 to adjust its Residential BLES rate to $14.00. The mechanism and proposed adjustment in Residential BLES rate are necessary to address the Federal Communications Commission's ("FCC") USF/ICC Transformation Order and Further Notice of Proposed Rulemaking reforming the universal service and Intercarrier compensation system and establishing an urban rate floor for maintaining High Cost Loop Support ("HCLS").

Middle Point is a for-profit incumbent local exchange telephone company and qualifies for HCLS. It provides BLES and other services to business and residential customers in its exchange. Its exchange has full coverage for broadband services as well. By providing additional support for infrastructure, HCLS helps ensure that voice and broadband services are available to the customers of Middle Point at comparable rates to those paid by customers in non-high cost service areas.

On November 18, 2011, the FCC released the USF/ICC Transformation Order and Further Notice of Proposed Rulemaking that included orders that reformed rules defining eligibility for HCLS. As part of the reform, the FCC has established an urban local rate floor for Residential BLES rates. If Middle Point's Residential BLES rate is below the urban local rate floor, the Rulemaking and resulting FCC rules require the administrator of HCLS to reduce Middle Point's eligibility for HCLS, on a dollar for dollar basis, in an amount equal to the difference between Middle Point's current Residential BLES rate and urban local rate floor times the number of residential access lines. 47 C.F.R. § 54.318. The urban local rate floor is currently $14. Beginning July 1, 2014, the urban local rate floor will be established through an annual survey of voice rates. Id.

Middle Point has exercised the limited amount of rate flexibility currently available to it as provided by R.C. 4927.12. In In the Matter of the Application of Middle Point Home Telephone Company to Obtain BLES Pricing Flexibility, Case No. 13-1249-TP-BLS, Application (May 28, 2013) ("BLES Pricing Flexibility Application"), Middle Point provided notice to the Commission that it would alter BLES rates because two or more alternative providers offer, in the exchange area, competing service to the BLES offered by Middle Point. Effective July 1, 2013, its rate for Residential BLES is $6.30 per month. Under the authority provided by R.C. 4927.12, Middle Point may not increase its Residential BLES rate until July 1, 2014, and that increase is limited to $1.25 per month per line. R.C. 4927.12(C)(1)(a) & (b); Rule 4901:1-6-14, Ohio Administrative Code. Thus, even if Middle Point increased its BLES rates on July 1, 2014 by the full amount permitted by R.C. 4927.12, its Residential BLES rate will remain under the current urban local rate floor and its HCLS will be reduced.¹

Further, a change in Residential BLES rates on July 1, 2014 will not satisfy an FCC reporting requirement to prevent further HCLS reductions. Pursuant to FCC rules, carriers must report residential lines and rates as of June 1 of each year. 47 C.F.R. § 54.313(h). Thus, because the Residential BLES rate will remain at the current level on June 1, 2014 unless the ¹ Further, Middle Point has recently reduced carrier access charges. In the Matter of the Application of Middle Point Home Telephone Company to Revise its Intrastate Access Tariff to Comply with FCC Requirements and to Remove Language that is no Longer Applicable, Case No. 13-1905-TP-ATA (Sept. 5, 2013).

Commission promptly acts on this Application, Middle Point's HCLS will be reduced based on the FCC's rules.

The Commission is authorized to create a mechanism to address changes in HCLS and thereby address the issues created by the FCC's Transformation Order. R.C. 4928.15(C) directs the Commission to address carrier access policy and to create and administer mechanisms for carrier access reform including high cost support. R.C. 4927.15(B) provides that any resulting rate changes necessary to comply with R.C. 4927.15(C) shall be in addition to any upward rate alteration made under R.C. 4927.12.

To address the FCC's adoption of an urban local rate floor and the timing of reporting requirements affecting the calculation of HCLS and to avoid a reduction in HCLS, Middle Point is seeking an order authorizing a mechanism to permit it to adjust its Residential BLES rate pursuant to R.C. 4927.15. The proposed mechanism would permit Middle Point upon 30 days' notice to adjust the Residential BLES rate to the urban local rate floor as established under Section 54.318 of Chapter 47 of the Code of Federal Regulations or any successor regulation. A copy of the proposed notice is attached as Exhibit D to this Application.

Based on the proposed mechanism, Middle Point also seeks to amend its BLES tariff to adjust the Residential BLES rate to the current urban local rate floor of $14 per Residential BLES line per month. This authorization is needed so that Middle Point can mitigate the current and impending additional erosion of HCLS under FCC rules.

In order to expedite this needed change, Middle Point requests that the Commission provide for a shortened comment period if it finds that one is necessary.

Although the requested relief would result in an increase in the Residential BLES rate, its rates would remain substantially below the current local exchange rates of Ohio incumbent local exchange carriers that provide Residential BLES in other parts of Ohio. Further, authorization of the mechanism and rate adjustment will allow Middle Point to retain revenue that would otherwise not remain in Ohio under FCC rules.² The mechanism would also assist Middle Point in assuring continued investment in facilities and services providing quality local exchange service. Additionally, Middle Point is at risk for the changes. As Middle Point recently demonstrated in its BLES Pricing Flexibility Application, Time Warner Cable, Verizon Wireless, AT&T Wireless, and Sprint offer competing service to BLES offered by Middle Point in its exchange. BLES Pricing Flexibility Application, Ex. E. See, also, Exhibit E attached to this Application. Because the Middle Point customers have a choice of providers, the business and financial risk associated with the proposed mechanism falls on Middle Point.

EXHIBIT D

(Customer Notice)

EXHIBIT D

(Customer Notice and Affidavit)

The following customer notice will appear on bills that are mailed to customers on Date to be Determined, once Middle Point Home Telephone Company receives approval to include a mechanism, pursuant to R.C. 4927.15(C), permitting the Company to change Basic Local Exchange Service ("BLES") rates, so that it will remain eligible for Federal Universal Service High Cost Support. This notice will also be sent to the Office of Consumers' Counsel electronic mailbox (occtelco@occ.state.oh.us) and to the Commission's electronic mailbox (Telecomm-Rule07@puc.state.oh.us) no less than thirty days prior to the rate increase:

Effective, Date to be Determined, our local telephone rate for residential customers will increase from $6.30 to $14.00. Many rural telephone companies, including Middle Point Home Telephone Company, receive support from the Federal Universal Service Fund. New rules have reduced such support if a telephone company's residential rates are below the national average.

If you have any questions about the revised rates, please call our office at (419) 968-2000.

The following affidavit will be prepared and filed with the Commission after the customer notice is provided to customers on Date to be Determined:

I, _____, am an (officer, authorized agent or counsel) of the applicant Corporation. Middle Point Home Telephone Company, and am authorized to make this statement on its behalf. I attest that the customer notice accompanying this affidavit was sent to affected customers as a bill message on Date to be Determined, in accordance with Rule 4901:1-6-07, Ohio Administrative Code. I declare under penalty that the foregoing is true and correct.

EXHIBIT E

(Alternative Providers)

EXHIBIT E
(Demonstration of Alternative Providers)

Effective July 1, 2013, the Commission determined in Case No. 13-1249-TP-BLS, that the Middle Point Home Telephone Company qualified for alternative regulation of BLES, determining that the application demonstrated that two or more alternative providers offer, in the exchange area, competing service to the BLES service offered by the company. An alternative provider, under R.C. 4927.12(C)(3)(a), includes a telephone company, including a wireless service provider, a telecommunications carrier, and a provider of internet protocol-enabled services, including voice over internet protocol.

Middle Point Home Telephone Company demonstrated that two or more alternative providers offer competing service to the BLES service offered in its exchange, namely Verizon Wireless, AT&T Wireless, Time Warner Cable, and Sprint.
