Explanation of Tariff Change

The proposed tariff language is designed to comply with the recently approved Advanced Meter Opt Out Rules prescribed in Section 4901:1-10-05(J), Ohio Administrative Code. The proposed tariff language will reside in the Company's Tariff D7, Meters and Metering Equipment – Location and Installation. The modification will give residential customers the choice to opt out of a two-way communication meter. If the customer does not already have an advanced meter installed, the customer may opt out and pay a monthly charge for monthly meter readings. If the customer already has an advanced meter installed and wishes to have the Company replace it with a traditional meter, a one-time fee will also be assessed for the removal of the advanced meter. DP&L does not currently have an approved Advanced Meter Infrastructure ("AMI") plan, so this option will become available when the Company implements an AMI plan.
