Dear Public Utilities Commission of Ohio,

I am writing because I am concerned about the possibility of raising our energy rates in Ohio and about the pollution that the coal plants are creating.

- I want to reduce air pollution, save money on the my electric bill, and urge our utilities to provide cleaner energy sources for our electricity.
- My family and I care about reducing toxic pollution and saving money on our electric bills by supporting clean energy instead.

My hope is that the future of Ohio's energy sources provide clean energy and that Duke Energy is held accountable to their customers.

Sincerely,

Erika Ungerbuehler

To the Commission,

I am writing in opposition to Duke Energy's and First Energy's joint proposal for a taxpayer-funded bailout. I further oppose the state legislature's freeze on Ohio's renewable energy standards. These standards have saved Ohio customers $1.03 billion during their first five years' of implementation. John Kasich's opposition to clean energy, premised upon Duke and First Energy donations to his campaign fund, is unethical and decades behind the current science.

The Public Utilities Commission should say no to the bailout. It should also work to bring an end to the freeze on Ohio's renewable energy standards.

I care about this issue because I feel it very unfair for the public to have to buy power from old expensive plants/being outdated and expensive coal plants. They should purchase power from the market to save the public (their customers) money.

We definitely need "Clean Power Plan" to eliminate carbon emissions from coal/power plants.

Ohio has one of the worst smog/pollution problems that need to be fixed -

Duke Energy needs to help the "little dog" (the public) to reduce energy cost / not worry about keeping "The Big Dog" (shareholders) getting fatter + fatter -

ATTN: CASE # 14-0841-EL-SSO

Mr. Commissioner:

I have been informed by the Ohio Citizen Action that the Duke energy is working to make their old coal plants bailed out and thus bind the customers to their expensive power. As a customer and a responsible citizen this is quite unacceptable to me and my family. We do respect the companies to make profit and flourish for their services, but such business cannot and should not be at the expense of environment and general well being of society. We do care about reducing pollution and opt for cleaner energy sources wherever possible.

We strongly urge you to not let Duke energy bailout their older and polluting coal power plants, thus forcing them to move to cleaner energy sources. As the commissioner responsible it is your duty and responsibility to protect the environment and the future generations of Ohio citizens.

Dear Public Utilities Commission of Ohio,

This letter is in reference to Case #-14-0841-EL-SSO.

As a long time Duke Energy Customer, I wanted to write this letter to express my disapproval of Duke raising my rates to cover their costs to convert their coal plants to more energy efficient ways of providing energy. Duke should have been preparing for this necessity long ago and making improvements over the years instead of waiting till they were made to do this.

We need Duke to be accountable to us as a consumer instead of their shareholders.

To Whom This Concerns,

I am writing this letter to show my strong beliefs about the bad and wrong things going on in Ohio. And this matter of we Ohioans having to possibly pay for upgrading an old-tech power company into a new version of old technology really has angered me.

When my family closed our high-tech robotics company because of a lack of sales, we didn't get any assistance. Why is Duke any different? When the big storm of '08-'09 happened, they wanted us to fix their power lines too!

Duke IS NOT publically owned^{!!!} They are in business to make money, just like everybody else. They DO NOT deserve any more of our money. Like any other business, they are not too big to fail. Somebody else will step in.

So to keep things short, my family, along with hundreds of thousands of Quakers, are DONE with all of the corruption in Ohio and the entire USA too. Enough is enough!! Let Duke fix their own business. And let them keep their BRIBERY money to fix their own problems.

PUCO,

Stop Ohio Utility companies from raising cost to cover projects and invest in clean energy.

Please hold the Ohio utilities company accountable to better manage their budget and control spending to fund projects to update current production plants instead of using the public to bail them out. There are less costly options instead of spending millions of public hard earn dollars.

Our family supports clean energy and urges PUCO to recommend investing in clean energy and purchasing power from alternative power producers. If Ohio utilities are allowed to raise costs and manage their budget without boundaries it will cost the public additional financial burden. Make utility companies reinvest and reinvent in their current production plants and sell power to recover the costs and instead of using the public for bailout.

Duke Energy is working in Ohio to make us pay for upgrading their old coal fired plants when other cleaner energy sources exist.

I care about this issue because global warming has been shown to have detrimental effects on our environment.

I want to reduce our use of fossil based fuels for power and want our utilities to provide cleaner sources of energy for electricity.

This funding would result in a rate increase regardless of the energy source or company we buy from.

My family does not want additional dollars spent on outdated fossil fuels when other cleaner approaches are available.

Please do not fund Duke Energy's coal plants.

RE: Duke Energy's Petition for a Financial Bailout

Duke's plans will involve a significant rate hike to which I am adamantly opposed. They are essentially asking their customers to continue paying for coal using energy plants that are outdated, expensive to operate and generate unnecessary pollution. I care deeply about reducing toxic pollution and of course I want to save money on my utilities. I am opposed to Duke's plans and I think they should be held responsible for finding and using cleaner energy sources for our electricity. Dear Members of the Public Utilities Commission,

I am writing to express my strong opinion against the bailout of Duke Energy & the continuing use of coal as an energy source. It's pretty simple. Bailouts do not promote innovation and a change away from bad practices. Duke Energy is concerned about their bottom line & their shareholders not about our clean air or our pocketbooks. They are happy to keep using a source of fuel that was discovered and used by cave men. As policy makers, you have the ability to put families interests above corporate profit and help shape a future where coal use is finally set aside in favor of cleaner & more sustainable energy sources.

Case No. 14-0841-EL-SSO

I am writing this letter to express my concern over Duke and First Energy's proposed raise to rates in my community. The fact that they plan to use these funds to continue the use of antiquated power plants is unacceptable. Our state should be focused on producing cleaner energy now for our environment and future generations. Do not let the pressure of Share holders of large organizations blind you to their plans. My family and I should not have to dole out extra money every month because Duke refuses to let go of outdated and toxic forms of energy. It is the sole responsibility of your agency to ensure the right decision is made in this matter. My hope is that ~~our~~ our pleas do not fall on deaf ears. Thank you for your time.

Dear PUCO

I have recently been informed of an issue that I am strongly against. I learned that Duke Energy of Ohio, AEP, and IGS have been or wish to soon begin purchasing more electric than will be used by their customers and selling it to suppliers in need. This will be done for a profit. They then use the profits to pay for old coal plants. This obviously will cause many residents and businesses in Ohio to pay more on their electric bills than they should be paying.

My family and other families should not have to pay for the suppliers listed above to continue polluting our air with outdated technology.

Case No. 14-0841-EL-SSO

My family consists of my husband, myself and our teenage son. My husband has spent the last 35 years working for the federal government. In the past 5 years, he has taken two pay cuts, reducing our income by 50%. I have been unemployed and unable to find a job for the past year, despite being a well qualified individual. The job I lost was state funded and the funds are no longer available. Another budget cut, that was supposed to help but instead reduced our income by another 20%. My son is a student and we pay tuition, with no assistance, for his education. Obviously, we have sacrificed and cut to the bone but are still unable to pay our monthly bills. To ask us or anyone to pick up the tab for your excessive business expenses is an outrage and a slap in the face. As our income has fallen and we have been told to suck it up, I urge you to do the same. An electric bill is not a luxury item. Clean up your act and stop gouging consumers. It is your responsibility to provide clean, affordable energy to the customer and if you need new equipment to do this then take it from your profit margin and not the pockets of families that have already been dumped on for far too long.

Dear Public Servant:

We don't believe that Ohio taxpayers should be forced to pay higher rates for dirty coal-fired energy so that Duke Energy and other utilities can maximize their profits. Subsidizing these outdated plants is the wrong thing to do – we should instead be incenting these companies to convert to clean energy as quickly as possible.

The health of many Ohioans will remain in jeopardy as long as we continue to allow coal plants to spew toxins and particulates into our air!

Please don't let these companies get away with this scheme!

Thanks for considering our point of view on this.

Dear PUCO,

I just was informed that Duke energy has some outdated plants and wants to increase our rates to modernize these plants. We as the consumers should not be held responsible for the upkeep or building new plants to replace the out-dated ones. That should be Duke's job and should be considered a sunk-in cost for their business.

The energy rates are high enough and once they raise the rates they Never will go down to where they were.

To PUCO Energy & Duke Energy
raising my gas/electric rate:

- I purchased my home at 3574 BURCH AVE.
in 1970 and paid less than $75 a month on energy costs. At the time C&D&E. was the utility in Cincinnati.
- Today I am paying $500 a month for my home energy. I find this extremely outrageous and a situation that will soon force me to move to an apartment. I know that inflation is a factor over time—but this increase is destructive to me + my family.
- Why aren't we building the Canadian pipeline?
Can't the government change policy to allow this to be built (more jobs, too) to bring oil and natural gas to the U.S. to reduce energy costs, and also provide a cleaner energy resource for Duke Energy power plants in lieu of coal-fired plants that pollute the air.
- Throughout its history, Duke has been very profitable to its shareholders; it's ridiculous to have us, the homeowners + taxpayers, add a bigger financial burden to our budgets ~~at~~ this time.
- Let's quit making the pipeline a political (Liberal) football. Build the damn pipeline now!

Dear PUCO:

I write as someone who handled the litigation in the early 1990s opposing the unfair and unreasonable efforts of Cincinnati Gas & Electric Company to impose on its customers hundreds of millions of dollars of paper accruals related to CG&E's conversion of the Zimmer nuclear power plant to the Zimmer coal power plant. That effort resulted in the PUCO justifiably ordering that CG&E write-off 230 million dollars of those paper accruals, a ruling affirmed by the Supreme Court of Ohio.

Similarly, the PUCO should now continue to fulfill its public trust fiduciary responsibilities and should refuse to subsidize the utility company's failed management decisions. Our nation and this State of Ohio has known for decades (DECADES!) the direction that people and this planet have to take with regard to reducing the poisoning of our air, ground, water, and lungs. This is an old issue. Please do not perpetuate the horror and injustice of causing widespread morbidity and economic inviolability.

Because there are energy sources that are cleaner and more efficient than coal for energy production, I oppose approving additional increases in our energy bills to support the continued operation of coal-fired power plants.

These outdated plants are too expensive to operate, pollute our air and generate greenhouse gases that contribute to global warming.

Therefore, I oppose PUCO's granting to Duke Energy the ability to raise rates to continue to operate their coal-fired power plants.

I am interested in Duke Energy working to sustainable Solutions for energy, including photovoltaic cells, wind, algae.

I will pay higher rates for these technologies, but I am against higher electric rates for sustaining coal.

It has come to my attention that Duke Energy has submitted plans to request Financial support of the old and outdated coal plants for another 15 years.

I am opposed to this and would rather see more efficient means of supplying energy to Ohio. Energy that is less polluting and less costly. Such as placing solar panels on homes and businesses. Such as using some of the profits to underwrite efficient furnaces.

Please put back in place the renewable energy standards and comply with them.

Thank you

Dear Public Utilities Commission of Ohio,

I am writing concerning the proposed bailout of the Duke Energy. Duke continues polluting the air in the Cincinnati area with outdated Coal technologies. They have not, through their actions, demonstrated any sort commitment to clean energy sources or to anything other than their own financial well-being. They consistently refuse to invest in the future and I do not think that consumers should have to pay for their lack of foresight.

Sincerely,

To Whom It May Concern:

First Energy and Duke Energy wish to make consumers bailout old coal plants and to continue buying energy from outdated plants. This corporate arrogance is unacceptable. Furthermore, First Energy and Duke Energy's role in the Ohio legislature's freeze on Ohio's renewable energy standards is an obvious effort to protect profit, not a need to study renewable energy issues further. Experience has shown the many benefits of renewable energy.

Please do not accede to the Fossil Fuel energy sector's efforts to kill renewable energy and to make us subsidize their outdated technology.

Thank you.

Chairman Johnson (who I presume still presides over this case),

I've looked over information that I could find on the internet related to this issue. In my opinion, as a scientist who has worked for the Federal Government for more than 15 years, I find it deplorable that we've done so little to modernize and promote alternative energies. Harkening back to the Carter Administration, which took so much heat for "daring" to ask Americans to lower their thermostats in the cold winter to save on non-renewable energy costs, we now find ourselves surpassed by several other nations in the race to clean, affordable, renewable and clean alternative energy sources. We must stop this tack, and it must begin with not allowing Duke Energy's attempt for a consumer bail out for languishing and non-competitive power to go forward. I do not support Duke Energy's request, and I urge you to reject this proposal.

Respectfully,

Dear Commissioners,

As part of the beleaguered "middle class," I urge you to deny requests by Duke Energy and First Energy to make ratepayers shoulder the burden of upgrading their outdated coal plants.

Shamefully, Ohio is one of the worst coal-fired-energy polluters in the United States. This comes as no surprise to Duke and First Energy, who have dragged their feet while polluting the environment. Now they want another 15 years to do better. And they want US to pay for it.

I hope that in a national environment that supports huge corporations as "people," the Ohio Public Utilities Commission will have the wisdom to deny these "people" the right to make fat profits despite bad long-range planning.

Thank you.

Sincerely,

I recently became aware of Duke Energy's submitted plans seeking a public assistance to subsidize or bailout some of their old coal power plants. I care about this issue because I don't believe in government or taxpayer funded bailout for private utilities. In addition, my family and I believe that a better use of taxpayer money would be to invest in clean and renewable energy resources instead. My family and I should not have to pay for Duke Energy to continue using outdated technology, particularly if it would cause my utility rates to increase.

Case No.: 14-0841-EL-SSO

Dear PUCO:

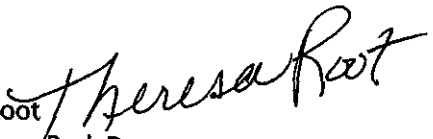

I am writing this letter in response to the financial bailout that Duke Energy is proposing in regards to its outdated coal plants. With today's technology and advancements, these plants should be retired to reduce air pollution; not saved with the end-user's money to keep them going and thus increasing everyone's rates in the process.

First Energy and Duke do not need any more time to study the issue. This is their business, and as such, they should have already been researching and readying themselves to move their business towards renewable clean energy that won't harm the environment.

We teach our children to be responsible and respectful of our environment; we will need it for many years to come. How can we stand by and support this company to continue to be irresponsible?

Please deny the financial bailout submitted by First Energy and Duke Energy.

Sincerely,

Dear PUCO:

I am concerned about the bailout of Duke's outdated coal plants. It is unfair for the consumer to be responsible for funding the costs of Duke's necessary expenses. Duke should also not be allowed to continue to pollute our air with this outdated technology.

I want to reduce air pollution, save money on my electric bill and urge our utilities to provide cleaner energy sources for our electricity. It seems that this bailout will not achieve all of these goals. The bailout will cause all consumers rates to go up no matter what energy company we buy from. My family and I should not have to pay for Duke to continue polluting our air with this outdated technology.

I hope that you will reconsider this situation and hold Duke Energy accountable to their customers, not their shareholders.
