"PLEASE FILE OPPOSITION COMMENT UNDER CASE #: 14-1297-EL-SSO"

As a longtime Ohio resident, I want to clearly state that I do NOT support dirty coal-burning power plants, and I do NOT support making customers pay for these obsolete and climate-destroying plants. Along with a strong majority of Ohioans, I support a move to renewable, clean energy sources as quickly as possible. Ohioans with respiratory disorders will breathe easier, and we can all look forward to cleaner air and more efficient energy production. Coal plants must be phased out ASAP!

COMMENT DESCRIPTION:

First Energy's antique coal plants should be closed in favor of efficiency and wind power, and solar when it's shown to be cheaper. First energy's coal plants are major polluters and threats to human health and can only get more costly to maintain and operate as they age, and as coal prices continue to climb. First Energy's own coal mine at Bull Mountain, Montana is exporting most of it's coal to Russia, thus driving up the price of the very commodity they need to operate their coal plants. Their mining expansion is intended for the Asian market per their press releases and business articles. This is a hazard resulting from granting a larger profit to companies when they select the most expensive methods of electricity generation. PUCO perhaps could change that. Efficiency programs, which actually make money for consumers, were recently ended, rolled back, or defeated when the Ohio legislature passed a law to stop them. Wind power, the cheapest new energy generation method you can build today in Ohio, was similarly smashed by the Ohio legislature. The only common sense actions we can hope to see in the immediate future will come from PUCO. In that hope, please refuse First Energy's coal bailout plans. Their plan is bad for Ohioans health and bad for Ohio's economy.

Please file comment under File 14-1297-el-sso I strongly oppose PUCo approval of rate increases for First Energy. There is no reason for rate payers to bail out this company, which is a victim of its own blunders and a managerial approach that is 50 years out of date. In a market economy stockholders should benefit when an enterprise is well managed and should suffer when it is poorly managed. In this case the company suffers from incompetent and reactionary management and it up to the stockholders to address these problems, not PUCO.

COMMENT DESCRIPTION:

Please file this opposition comment under case #14-1297-EL-SSO PUCO should deny FirstEnergy's request to increase my bills to pay for their dirty, sickening coal plants; solar is safe, easy to get, and a financially sound alternative. PUCO should not bail out FirstEnergy's filthy coal plants, nor the aged and problem-plagued Davis-Besse Nuclear Reactor. We deserve safer, cleaner electricity generation; we need the jobs that solar and wind energy provides; and investing in increasing energy efficiency instead will provide numerous benefits for everyone, no matter the energy source. Thank you.

COMMENT DESCRIPTION:

PLEASE FILE OPPOSITION COMMENT UNDER CASE #: 14-1297-EL-SSO.

I'm writing to express my opposition for FirstEnergy's requested bailout of their coal power plant. FirstEnergy is trying to raise customers' bills to pay for its aging, dirty coal plants. This is wrong.

Coal, which generates nearly 70 percent of electricity in Ohio, is a dangerous fuel known to cause major air pollution and negatively impact public health while contributing to climate disruption. FirstEnergy's coal plants are not competitive with today's market prices for electricity and their coal plants spew toxic pollution into our air and water.

Ohioans deserve better.

I urge you to deny deny these coal plant bailout requests. Please don't make Ohioans pay more for dirty energy they don't want. Instead, invest in renewable energy and energy efficiency.

Thank you.

PLEASE FILE OPPOSITION COMMENT UNDER CASE #: 14-1297-EL-SSO.

Since the Clean Air Act of 1970, power companies have continued to shirk the law and pursued every means possible of using old outdated technology. Investment in renewable energy and energy efficiency has been largely ignored except when ordered by the state. I am among the majority of Ohio electricity customers say they think Ohio should be investing more in renewable energy like solar and wind. And join the overwhelming majority (92 percent) of Ohioans who say it is important for Ohio to invest in measures to increase energy efficiency.

FirstEnergy's coal plants are not competitive with today's market prices for electricity. Every day, Solar is breaking new ground in energy production. And it would be shameful for the PUCO to condemn Ohio Consumers to pay even more than they already have for the damage these old plants have done to our water, air, and wallets. Ohio is the home of invention, and you should not stop the advances in power generation by making old, poisonous processes forever profitable. Just as wooden ships had their day, old coal plants have too, and it is wrong to legislate their use into the future.
