Dear Public Utilities Commission of Ohio:

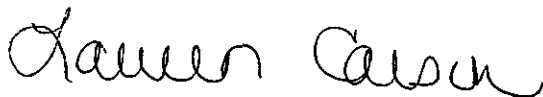

Re: Case No 14-0841-EL-SSO

I wanted to take a moment and write you to share my thoughts and concerns about the future of Ohio air quality. As a mom to three young children, their health and future is my upmost concern. I want them to have a safe, healthy world to grow old in and raise THEIR babies. however, with the current track of big business energy companies, such as Duke Energy, in Ohio they are doomed to a future full of pollution and a sick Earth. We need to find solutions for green energy and reduce our dependence on traditional forms of generating the electricity we need.

The bailout that is proposed by Duke Energy is ridiculous. My family should not have to suffer in the forms of higher bills and damage to our healthy air because of the inefficiencies of their old coal plants. By bailing out big business, the message is sent to the public and other business owners that improving oneself and our future isn't nearly as important as cold, hard cash. This is NOT the message of a world I want my children to be a part of.

Please consider holding Duke Energy accountable for their business practices to their customers instead of their shareholders. Our future is worth more than one business's bottom line!

Sincerely,

Lauren Carson

Just a note... 14-0841-EL-SSC

To: P.U.C.O.

As an unemployed I am deeply concerned about this issue. If we do not clean up our environment, there will be an even worse world for our future generations.

The government shouldn't have to "bail out" every company that struggles, as they can't even balance : stay within their budget.

The Duke Energy : First Energy customers should also not incur increased costs. Most of them can barely afford their bills now.

Sincerely,
Melanie J.
