I am writing to you in regards to an issue, as it has been recently brought to my attention, that Duke Energy continues to use technology not fitting the health standards of today's society. They are clearly capable of renovating their industry by replacing and/or improving their outdated coal plants with newer, more efficient, and more environmentally friendly technology. Please help our state to stay cleaner by not bailing out Duke's outdated coal power plants. Thank you.

To Whom it May Concern:

This issue is important to me because I don't want to have to worry about the future & whether my kids & their kids, will ever be able to breathe. As well, if electric bills increase everyone will go back to using gas in their homes, which is also expensive. I don't understand how we, the customers ^{should} have to pay more money to get sick from pollution when Duke has a solution to the problem!

Thank You Amy Kearns

Case# 14-0841-EL-SSO

Dear PUCO,

I fervently believe that you should NOT support the bailout of Duke Energy's outdated coal plants. There are several reasons why I greatly care about this issue. First and foremost is reducing the amount of toxic pollution that is being created by plants such as these. Everyone has the right to clean air and relief that the energy that is being supplied to them is not horrendously contributing to green-house gas emissions that are causing the global climate change. Second is that we should be moving away from energy resources that are finite and be contributing to sources that are perpetual. This is a much more sustainable process that will assist in preventing further degradation of our natural environments. Lastly, I do not believe that the consumers of Duke Energy should be the ones shouldering the bill for these inefficient practices.

Dear Sirs/Madams:

It has come to our attention that Duke Energy, AEP, and First Energy have filed proposals with the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio (PUCO) to get permission to raise consumer rates and use the profits to cover the costs of their outdated and inefficient coal plants. We would like to state emphatically that Ohio does not NEED a purchase power agreement and that it would HURT Ohio to agree to purchase power from the three outdated coal plants outlined in the proposal.

We need to reduce air pollution in Ohio. And we need to encourage power companies to provide energy from cleaner resources. The Duke/AEP/First Energy proposals would be a disincentive to these companies to modernize their equipment and provide Ohioans with the clean energy that we have been asking for! The purchase power agreement would also cost us money! We are not interested in paying for power companies to continue polluting our air. Their company. Their mistakes. THEIR bill!

Please hold Duke accountable to Ohio by showing them that we are not interested in being forced to purchase "dirty energy", that clean energy standards are good for all of us, and that they need to do THEIR part -- not turn to us to pay for something we don't want.

Sincerely,

Dear Sir or Madam:

My family and I care about reducing toxic pollution and saving money on our electric bills by supporting clean energy. The proposed Duke bailout is like throwing good money after bad. Instead of investigating and investing in clearer and more renewable energy, we are being asked to buy dirty energy to line the pockets of Duke Energy shareholders. All companies should be able to make a profit, but Duke Energy should also be held accountable to their customers.

There is no real recourse for consumers other than campaigns like this. Please take our letters to heart and consider the economic impact to average Ohioans like me. Please keep the freeze on renewable energy standards and help to keep a little more "discretionary income" in my pocket and in my community.

Let us push to come up with better energy solutions for the health of our economy, our state and our citizens of Ohio.

I find it outrageous that Ohio utility companies would expect their customers and Ohio citizens to allow them to keep out-dated and less efficient plants open. The days of putting shareholders above the needs of the public must come to an end. When considerations for turning a profit outweigh the collective good, there is a problem, especially when supported by the very officials elected to represent us all.

These companies benefit from the betterment of society as a whole and therefore owe it to the environment in which it thrives to keep in mind its social responsibilities in the form of affordability and environmental impact.
