I am very much against ANY easing of restrictions on coal plant emissions, especially these VERY DIRTY ones that you guys are looking to give breaks to. These types of back room deals make Ohions feel like the PUC is only a corrupt agency that plays yes man to the energy industry, an industry that is out for money, and cares very little for the public and the environment's health. Shame on you if you let these companies off the hook to pollute in this way.

To the members of PUC. My name is Harold Meyer, and I live and work in massillon ohio. I am a current consumer of AEP's alternative clean energy program which purchases wind generated power. I am writing today to protest AEP's request to "bail out" the older dirtier coal fired plants. I am of the opinion that any public monies and regulatory direction should be used in expanding clean sustainable sources of energy rather than to extend the lifetime of outdated, obsolete, and environmentally damaging coal plants. Thank you for your attention to this.

Hello,

I am emailing to state that I am against the idea of a bail out for AEP. Coal is archaic and we shouldn't be investing large sums of money to progress this. We all know that coal plays many negatives roles in our environment and causes sickness. I truly believe this money could be used for a greater good and I do not want to have contributed to keeping coal afloat in any way. As a state we have to be better than this.

To Whom It May Concern,

I would like to oppose case AEP's request to bail out the old dirty coal plants. Don't want to pay to keep them running as they make Ohioans sick.

Do ask Sierraclub and Greenpeace to see if there are better ways to fund solar panels , wind turbines , and hydroelectric power plants .

An aunt in the state of California sais she has had solar panels on her roof for 30 years ...

Maybe the state of Ohio ought to ask the state of California about how to fund solar panels , wind turbines , and hydroelectric power plants ...

Honestly
