To Whom It May Concern:

We have been Cinergy and Duke Energy customers for 20 years. We do not believe in government bailouts in any and all circumstances. The United States economy was founded on free trade and capitalism, and continued bailouts of companies is a disconcerting move to socialism. Either the government should own and manage the energy groups that are paid for by taxes (nearly pure socialism), or the energy companies are private companies. Providing a bailout encourages these companies to continue poor financial planning, saying don't worry about managing your assets, we will bail you out when they get bad. It is implied that the rates that we pay are for:

- The service/ goods of the company
- Maintenance of existing equipment and lines
- Salary for the workers that deliver the service/ goods
- Financial planning to replace aging equipment before it reaches a point that its performance is a detriment

I can only conclude that if they have not been dutifully carrying out the last point, then that money was going to line pockets of executives as bonuses or buying the naming rights of sports complexes. Providing them a bailout now, will reward this kind of poor financial planning.

I was writing regarding the proposal to have a rate increase and cause a lock for customers into buying power from Duke, which ~~is~~^{uses} Ohio's oldest, dirtiest coal plant.

My family and I care about reducing toxic pollution as well as saving money on our electric bill. As a single mother of two, our monthly output of cash flow is often at the maximum amount of our cash inflow (my paychecks). While I could understand an increase for new technology, which would be less volatile for the environment, and increase for using the same, outdated, dirty, toxic technology does not make sense.

I'm not surprised. They, the Utilities, want to stick-it-to-the-consumer again. Have to keep those executive bonuses high to sustain their elegant life styles.

Hold plant improvement expenses to the bare minimum. Keep dividends at a low minimum payout.

Some day the utility managers may make very minor improvements to the Power Plants - but only grudgingly. I'll be a prudent Board of Directors member for half the pay, now paid them. Give me a call, 513-777-5911.

Dear Commission:

A decision to bailout outdated, inefficient, polluting coal power plants will further disincentive utility companies operating in Ohio to invest in more sustainable renewable energy. The Commission needs to take the long view, and understand that a bailout only favors utility companies in the short term, and a failure to look to the future will ultimately cost the utility companies and the State of Ohio more over time.

To Whom It May Concern:

I am writing to you today to urge your consideration to revoke, prevent or disapprove any type of bailout for energy company's refineries that are out of date. Increasing rates for customers is wrong, it is worse when the costs will not help lead to cleaner energy production. Bailouts for energy companies utilizing out of date energy production methods is not only wrong, but could be considered criminal/extortion.

In order for energy companies to warrant any type of increases for production of their services, they need to show advancement and attention to what this country needs, cleaner energy production. Providing bailouts without any change in the production process does not make any sense.

You have an opportunity to actually make a front line difference as opposed to what many if not most of our politicians claim, which is to say that you can enact change today. Stop throwing good money after bad, and encourage change for cleaner energy production so we do not pass this issue over our children and grandchildren.

Dear Public Utilities Commission of Ohio,

Please deny the rate increase to lock consumers into buying power from Ohio's oldest, dirtiest coal plants.

My family and I care about reducing toxic pollution and saving money on our electric bills.

A bailout of old, polluting technology only benefits utility shareholders and delays inevitable investment in efficiency and renewable energy.

Sincerely,

I don't agree that Duke customers are responsible for the costs to cover outdated + inefficient coal plants.
It's not our responsibility + I don't

To the Commission:

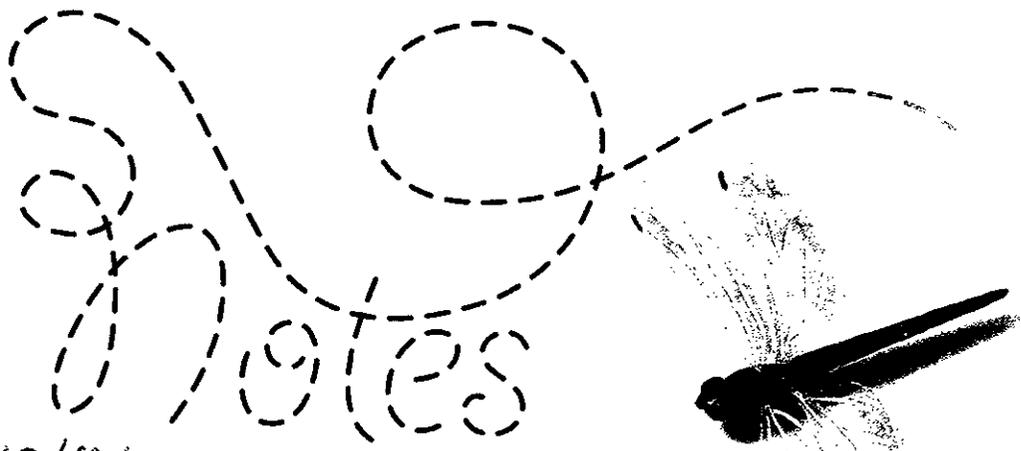

This letter is in regards to Duke Energy's case # 14-0841EL-SSO. As a long-time Ohio homeowner, I find it reprehensible that we should face a rate increase to be locked into buying power from outdated and dirty coal plants that will do nothing but continue to pollute our air, waters, and soil. It is my opinion that such a rate increase is little more than a "bailout" for energy companies that would benefit the owners but do little to provide long-term efficient clean energy.

Please deny this rate increase. Encourage Duke and others to invest in renewable sources and to maximize the abundance of natural gas—anything but coal.

Sincerely,

RE: Case No. 14-0841EL-SSO - Duke
Energy

Dear PUCO,

We have had to endure enough bailouts as taxpaying citizens. Please deny the rate increase that will lock us taxpayers and bill payers into buying power from some of the oldest and dirtiest coal plants in Ohio.

My family and I do care about reducing toxic pollution and saving money on our electric bills.

This bailout, however, only benefits

To Whom It May Concern:

I just found out that Duke Energy (+ others) have filed proposals to raise our rates so they can cover the costs of their outdated + polluted coal plants. My entire family cares about toxic pollution and saving money on our electric bills. This is not a fair use of our money!

No more bailouts! Please deny approving an increase in our rates! Buying from outdated coal plants simply delays consumers from receiving and desiring more efficient + renewable energy.

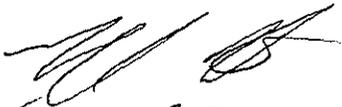

We can't keep taking the easy way out. My children's futures are at risk!!

Re: Duke Energy 14-0841EC-550

A bailout of old polluting technology only benefits utility shareholders and delays inevitable investment in efficiency and renewable energy. Why not put any money towards development/research of clean sustainable energy, instead of having families bail out Duke's bottom line?

My bills are overwhelming from Duke for just one person. I pay my bill but it is becoming harder + harder. We need more efficiency & renewable energy. What about the next generation I care about reducing toxic pollution + saving money on electric bills.

Please Stop this Bailout!
