COMMENT DESCRIPTION:

I urge you not to support long term contracts to generate electricity from coal, not only does that increase consumer costs, coal fired electricity generation creates a significant health risk. With abundant natural gas and solar/wind as alternatives, there is no reason to used outdated technology.

Thanks you.

no more bailouts for electric companies who obviously paid more attention to stock prices than they did for maintaining their aging plants.

COMMENT DESCRIPTION:

I applaud your protection of Ohio energy customers by denying the request by AEP to have customers be responsible for the costs of maintenance of old and inefficient coal and nuclear power plants. I also want to urge you to do the same should First Energy & Duke Power propose similar shifts of costs to customers. This is tantamount to having automobile tire manufacturers shift the cost of their product to customers when their products become badly constructed because of faulty manufacturing machinery. And one has only to look at the problems China is having to see the need for renewable energy.

Thank you for denying subsidies to the Clifty Creek and Kyger Creek coal plants. Please also deny subsidies for the aging Duke and First Energy plants. You understand the impact old coal burning plants have on global temperatures and the danger posed by out-of-date nuclear plants. Thank you.

Thank you for denying AEP's request for us consumers and businesses to subsidize aging coal plants that need to be retired. I urge you to deny these other requests for bailouts as well: Duke (case number 14-0841-el-sso) FirstEnergy (case number 14-1297-el-sso)

The reality is that climate change poses a serious risk to human habitation of the planet. We must move forward to renewable resources, and the only way to do that is to stop subsidizing the burning of fossil fuels. I read yesterday that scientists have found craters blown in the permafrost of the upper latitudes as the expanding gases seek relief. Methane, one of the most potent greenhouse gases known, is being released as the permafrost thaws as our planet heats up.

Fossil fuel industries will keep doing what they have been doing, that's the nature of the beast. Now they are asking us to bail out their dated coal-burning plants, most of which should have been closed years ago. If the public is going to subsidize anything, it should be renewable energy so that our grandchildren will inherit a world where they can still breathe and grow food.

Thank you.

I urge the PUCO to deny the pending proposed bailouts: Duke (case number 14-0841-el-sso) FirstEnergy (case number 14-1297-el-sso)

FirstEnergy's and Duke Energy's power plants are aging, inefficient coal and nuclear plants that can't compete on the open market with new plants, low natural gas prices and falling renewables prices. Why should First Energy's and Duke's customers be forced to subsidize these aged, old, outdated plants to guarantee these plants' continued viability? These old plants should be retired and dismantled, and replaced with cleaner, more efficient, less-polluting, more affordable technologies.

COMMENT DESCRIPTION:

Yesterday the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio. stood up for residential and business customers and denied American Electric Power/Ohio Power's request to subsidize the Kyger Creek and Clifty Creek coal plants.

FirstEnergy and Duke Energy have similar bailout requests pending at the PUCO.

All of the requests hinge on whether or not their customers, large and small, would be forced to guarantee these plants' viability. These aging, inefficient coal and nuclear plants can't compete on the open market with new plants, low natural gas prices and falling renewables prices. I am writing to urge the PUCO to deny the other bailouts proposed: Duke (case number 14-0841-el-sso) FirstEnergy (case number 14-1297-el-sso)

COMMENT DESCRIPTION:

Thank you for denying AEP's proposal for a bailout to the coal industry.

Duke Energy has also submitted plans to the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio (PUCO) for financial bailouts of some of their most outdated and expensive coal plants.

They want to force us to buy the power from these old expensive plants for the next 15 years. This plan is a subsidy that flies in the face of the state policy to promote competition. Their proposal protects the utilities from risk, while placing all of the risk on the ratepayer.

I ask you to not provide Duke, AEP or any other energy company with bailout moneys at the additional expense of the taxpayer.

COMMENT DESCRIPTION:

although electric generation and distribution are supposed to be decoupled and separate businesses,utilities now want you to now tie them together. and the people by law "on the hook" for any upgrades, shutdowns, closings or cleanup needed. Like my parents did, I too have paid for these dirty old plants.

It is time for stockholders to pay their own way, and clean up their own messes.
