Dear Cincinnati Bell Wireless Customer,

As you may be aware, on April 7, 2014, we announced that we signed an agreement to sell our wireless spectrum to Verizon Wireless. This transaction must be approved by regulatory agencies before it is finalized. As a result, we expect to operate our wireless business for 8-12 months from today.

You don't need to do anything at this time.

Once the agreement is approved and closed, we will notify you and assist you with the transition of your wireless service to Verizon Wireless or other carrier of your choice. Of course, we will also waive any applicable contract termination fees at that time. Until you receive a notification from Cincinnati Bell you don't need to do anything. There are no changes to your phone number, network coverage, customer service or the way you pay your Cincinnati Bell Wireless bill.

Why is Cincinnati Bell making these changes?

After much deliberation, we have determined that our customers are best served by other wireless offerings in the market. Also, making this change will allow Cincinnati Bell to focus on our industry-leading Fioptics video and high-speed internet services.

I want to say a heart-felt thank you for being a Cincinnati Bell Wireless customer. We appreciate the loyal support from our Cincinnati Bell Wireless customers over the last sixteen years, and we remain committed to providing you with wireless service and support throughout the transition period. If you have any questions, please visit our FAQ page at www.cincinnati-bell.com/CBW, visit a retail store or give us a call at (513) 566.3281. We look forward to serving your communication and entertainment needs in the future.
