To whom it may concern,

Please deny the rate increase to lock consumers into buying power from Ohio's oldest, dirtiest coal plants.
I care about this issue because of the rising cost of living in our country. I care about reducing toxic pollution and saving money on my electric bill. I don't see why consumers should have to cover the cost of outdated and inefficient coal plants. I felt compelled to write this letter for a number of reasons. On the eve of our nation's independence and looking out on a beautiful Friday afternoon, while ironically listening to Neil Young's new album called The Monsanto years, I received a knock at my door from a few young volunteers creating awareness about this issue.

So I write to you today to make you aware of my concern and explain that my country, my state and my city is important to me. I realize utility companies and large corporations for that matter are not infallible - but ^{to me} this ~~is~~ a mistake ~~if~~ rates are raised.

Regards,

PAUL LIPPO
