Subject: forbid the rate hike

Dear Chairman Porter,

I don't want my electric bill to go up to pay for AEP's and FirstEnergy's old power plants for the following reasons that, in short, reveal the falsehood or exaggeration of AEP's arguments:

1. Increasing rates have already been taking place via, in part, the Commission's decision that started taking effect in October 2013. Those increases have in fact led to soaring bills for small-business customers per the Columbus Dispatch thanks especially to PUCO's acceptance on June 1, 2015 of FirstEnergy's Ohio Standard Pricing.
2. The astonishing increase in rates, 40 percent for many customers, has been astonishing in part because PUCO's decision was based on AEP's incorrect estimates. Thus, because of this dishonorable mistake on AEP's part, it cannot currently be trusted as it argues for yet another rate hike.
3. Honor the utility's claim that it's losing money on their aging plants with the capitalistic "free- market" way: change the accounting method or shut down the plant. Resist AEP's run to a behind-closed-door session in search of a handout from the dispenser of funds who should, per its mission, be considering heavily the financial welfare and health of the source of those funds, we the people, the customers.
4. Forbidding a rate hike would be tantamount to placing prudently a capitalistic tourniquet on an inefficient and ailing machine or industrial plant
5. Forbidding a rate hike would be a vote for clean air, a legislated priority.

In light of these reasons, please stand up for Ohio consumers and tell the PUCO to reject AEP's and FirstEnergy's money grab.

Dear Commissioner Johnson,

New, clean, natural gas plants are providing alternatives to old, inefficient plants that AEP and FirstEnergy want consumers to subsidize with rate increases. The utility companies have threatened plant shut-downs and warned that consumers and businesses will no longer have a reliable power supply, if they don't get handouts paid for by consumers. But Ohio's power grid operator and multiple experts have said that Ohio has plenty of power generation for the future.

Don't fall for utility scare tactics! Please Tell the PUCO to say "no" to the utility handouts and "yes" to cheaper natural gas to fuel Ohio's future.

The recent exposure of natural gas bid rigging and price fixing should clearly show the hog-like conditions in which the utility companies are living. If Ohio's monopoly-oversight committee is in the same place then they should not wonder why people like Trump are where they are!

Dear Chairman Porter,

New, clean, natural gas plants are providing alternatives to old, inefficient plants that AEP and FirstEnergy want consumers to subsidize with rate increases. The utility companies have threatened plant shut-downs and warned that consumers and businesses will no longer have a reliable power supply, if they don't get handouts paid for by consumers. But Ohio's power grid operator and multiple experts have said that Ohio has plenty of power generation for the future.

Don't fall for utility scare tactics! Please Tell the PUCO to say "no" to the utility handouts and "yes" to cheaper natural gas to fuel Ohio's future.

AEP and FirstEnergy are trying to hijack Ohioans' electric bills and demand billions of dollars in ransom from Ohio consumers to prop up their old power plants that they claim are losing money. I shouldn't have to pay extra charges to subsidize utility companies when I get no benefit in return.

Subject: Protect Ohioans from Utility Power Plays

Dear Chairman Porter,

AEP and FirstEnergy are trying to hijack Ohioans' electric bills and demand billions of dollars in ransom from Ohio consumers to prop up their old power plants that they claim are losing money. I shouldn't have to pay extra charges to subsidize utility companies when I get no benefit in return.

Please protect hard-working Ohioans, seniors on fixed incomes, and small business owners from ridiculous and totally unnecessary rate hikes. Please tell the PUCO to put a stop to this corporate welfare.

Dear Commissioner Johnson,

I don't want my electric bill to go up to pay for AEP's and FirstEnergy's old power plants. The utilities claim they're losing money on their aging plants, and now they're demanding that consumers cover the cost of their bad decisions not to invest in cheaper, cleaner power, like natural gas.

It's outrageous that my electric bill will go up while these giant utilities are earning billions of dollars and paying hefty dividends to their shareholders. Please stand up for Ohio consumers and tell the PUCO to reject AEP's and FirstEnergy's money grab.

Dear Chairman Porter,

This is a simple case of lack of forethought by AEP and First Energy to the future of electrical generation. They stuck too long with coal generation not realizing the future regulations would put these plants at a disadvantage. Now ratepayers are being asked to subsidize these bad decisions. They should be paid by the stockholders and upper management. I am completely opposed to any bailout of these two companies for their lack of future planning.

Subject: Pull the Plug on Utility Handouts

Dear Chairman Porter,

I don't want my electric bill to go up to pay for AEP's and FirstEnergy's old power plants. The utilities claim they're losing money on their aging plants, and now they're demanding that consumers cover the cost of their bad decisions not to invest in cheaper, cleaner power, like natural gas.

It's outrageous that my electric bill will go up while these giant utilities are earning billions of dollars and paying hefty dividends to their shareholders. Please stand up for Ohio consumers and tell the PUCO to reject AEP's and FirstEnergy's money grab.

PUCO Case #: 14-1297-EL-SSO; 14-1693; 14-1694

When we bought our home in 2001, one of the selling points to us was that it was an "all-electric" home with the "all-electric" rate. The rate at that time was approximately 2.9 cents per Kilowatt hour. Our rates are now more than double that. How can the utility just change the rules on a rate that had been agreed to?

Shareholders of the utility should be the ones bearing the costs of these older power plants, NOT the rate payers.

Thank you

Dear Chairman Porter,

I don't want my electric bill to go up to pay for AEP's and FirstEnergy's old power plants. The utilities claim they're losing money on their aging plants, and now they're demanding that consumers cover the cost of their bad decisions not to invest in cheaper, cleaner power, like natural gas.

It's outrageous that my electric bill will go up while these giant utilities are earning billions of dollars and paying hefty dividends to their shareholders. Please stand up for Ohio consumers and tell the PUCO to reject AEP's and FirstEnergy's money grab.

It is absurd that first energy can pay the huge amount of money to support the stadium in Cleveland that very few of their customers will visit, while the average electric consumer struggles to pay for only fair electric service. I can't afford to pay more for electricity!

Dear Chairman Porter,

I don't want my electric bill to go up to pay for AEP's and FirstEnergy's old power plants. The utilities claim they're losing money on their aging plants, and now they're demanding that consumers cover the cost of their bad decisions not to invest in cheaper, cleaner power, like natural gas.

It's outrageous that my electric bill will go up while these giant utilities are earning billions of dollars and paying hefty dividends to their shareholders. Please stand up for Ohio consumers and tell the PUCO to reject AEP's and FirstEnergy's money grab.

It is absurd that first energy can pay the huge amount of money to support the stadium in Cleveland that very few of their customers will visit, while the average electric consumer struggles to pay for only fair electric service. I can't afford to pay more for electricity!

Dear Commissioner Johnson,

I'm writing today to ask you to say no to FirstEnergy's request for the PUCO to authorize substantial, customer-funded subsidies to bail out its uneconomic and dirty power plants.

More and more parties -- such as the Ohio Manufacturers Association, Ohio Consumers' Counsel, and AARP -- are now opposing the bailout, but the utility giant and its expensive lawyers and lobbyists are pressuring Ohio regulators in these final days before a decision.

Please safeguard market competition and reject FirstEnergy's proposal, so that a utility can no longer cross-subsidize or favor its affiliate companies in order to block competition. Approving the deal would send a clear message to Ohio's businesses, entrepreneurs, investors, and residents: We favor reigning power players and political clout over innovation and competition. Utility profits should not be placed ahead of Ohioans' best interests, and especially not at their personal expense.

If you believe Ohio should have electricity that is clean, reliable, and affordable, please reject FirstEnergy's request.

Please safeguard market competition and reject FirstEnergy's proposal, so that a utility can no longer cross-subsidize or favor its affiliate companies in order to block competition. Approving the deal would send a clear message to Ohio's businesses, entrepreneurs, investors, and residents: We favor reigning power players and political clout over innovation and competition. Utility profits should not be placed ahead of Ohioans' best interests, and especially not at their personal expense.

If you believe Ohio should have electricity that is clean, reliable, and affordable, please reject FirstEnergy's request.

Dear Commissioner Johnson,

I'm writing today to ask you to say no to FirstEnergy's request for the PUCO to authorize substantial, customer-funded subsidies to bail out its uneconomic and dirty power plants.

More and more parties -- such as the Ohio Manufacturers Association, Ohio Consumers' Counsel, and AARP -- are now opposing the bailout, but the utility giant and its expensive lawyers and lobbyists are pressuring Ohio regulators in these final days before a decision.

Please safeguard market competition and reject FirstEnergy's proposal, so that a utility can no longer cross-subsidize or favor its affiliate companies in order to block competition. Approving the deal would send a clear message to Ohio's businesses, entrepreneurs, investors, and residents: We favor reigning power players and political clout over innovation and competition. Commissioner Thomas Johnson

Dear Commissioner Johnson,

I'm writing today to ask you to say no to FirstEnergy's request for the PUCO to authorize substantial, customer-funded subsidies to bail out its uneconomic and dirty power plants.

More and more parties -- such as the Ohio Manufacturers Association, Ohio Consumers' Counsel, and AARP -- are now opposing the bailout, but the utility giant and its expensive lawyers and lobbyists are pressuring Ohio regulators in these final days before a decision.

Please safeguard market competition and reject FirstEnergy's proposal, so that a utility can no longer cross-subsidize or favor its affiliate companies in order to block competition. Approving the deal would send a clear message to Ohio's businesses, entrepreneurs, investors, and residents: We favor reigning power players and political clout over innovation and competition. Utility profits should not be placed ahead of Ohioans' best interests, and especially not at their personal expense.

If you believe Ohio should have electricity that is clean, reliable, and affordable, please reject FirstEnergy's request.

Thank you,

Mrs. Hollie Hallman

Commissioner Thomas Johnson

Dear Commissioner Johnson,

I'm writing today to ask you to say no to FirstEnergy's request for the PUCO to authorize substantial, customer-funded subsidies to bail out its uneconomic and dirty power plants. How FirstEnergy can do this, after having the audacity to lobby and win a two-year "moratorium" on requirements for a small percentage of clean energy generation as part of their overall generating capabilities, appalls me. This company is asking for a free pass to continue to pollute our air with out-of-date dirty coal technology, avoid capital investment in new plants, and guarantee they profit from bad business decisions.

More and more parties -- such as the Ohio Manufacturers Association, Ohio Consumers' Counsel, and AARP -- are now opposing the bailout, but the utility giant and its expensive lawyers and lobbyists are pressuring Ohio regulators in these final days before a decision. The advertisements on TV that have recently appeared are just one example of FirstEnergy's attempts to convince the public they have our interests as a priority.

Please safeguard market competition and reject FirstEnergy's proposal, so that a utility can no longer cross-subsidize or favor its affiliate companies in order to block competition. Approving the deal would send a clear message to Ohio's businesses, entrepreneurs, investors, and residents: We favor reigning power players and political clout over innovation and competition; go elsewhere if you are or want to participate in the future of the energy economy and take your jobs making wind turbines or solar panels elsewhere. I urge you to act so that utility profits are not be placed ahead of Ohioans' best interests, and especially not at their personal expense.

If you believe Ohio should have electricity that is clean, reliable, and affordable, please reject FirstEnergy's request.

Commissioner Thomas Johnson

Dear Commissioner Johnson,

Please say no to FirstEnergy's request for the PUCO to authorize substantial, customer-funded subsidies to bail out its uneconomic and dirty power plants.

More and more parties -- such as the Ohio Manufacturers Association, Ohio Consumers' Counsel, and AARP -- are now opposing the bailout, but the utility giant and its expensive lawyers and lobbyists are pressuring Ohio regulators in these final days before a decision.

Please safeguard market competition and reject FirstEnergy's proposal, so that a utility can no longer cross-subsidize or favor its affiliate companies in order to block competition. Approving the deal would send a clear message to Ohio's businesses, entrepreneurs, investors, and residents: We favor reigning power players and political clout over innovation and competition. Utility profits should not be placed ahead of Ohioans' best interests, and especially not at their personal expense.

If you believe Ohio should have electricity that is clean, reliable, and affordable, please reject FirstEnergy's request.

Thank you,

Mr. J Howard Harding

Commissioner Thomas Johnson

Dear Commissioner Johnson,

I'm writing today to ask you to say no to FirstEnergy's request for the PUCO to authorize substantial, customer-funded subsidies to bail out its uneconomic and dirty power plants.

More and more parties -- such as the Ohio Manufacturers Association, Ohio Consumers' Counsel, and AARP -- are now opposing the bailout, but the utility giant and its expensive lawyers and lobbyists are pressuring Ohio regulators in these final days before a decision.

Please safeguard market competition and reject FirstEnergy's proposal, so that a utility can no longer cross-subsidize or favor its affiliate companies in order to block competition. Approving the deal would send a clear message to Ohio's businesses, entrepreneurs, investors, and residents: We favor reigning power players and political clout over innovation and competition. Utility profits should not be placed ahead of Ohioans' best interests, and especially not at their personal expense.

If you believe Ohio should have electricity that is clean, reliable, and affordable, please reject FirstEnergy's request.

Thank you,

Dear Commissioner Johnson,

I'm writing today to ask you to say no to FirstEnergy's request for the PUCO to authorize substantial, customer-funded subsidies to bail out its uneconomic and dirty power plants.

More and more parties -- such as the Ohio Manufacturers Association, Ohio Consumers' Counsel, and AARP -- are now opposing the bailout, but the utility giant and its expensive lawyers and lobbyists are pressuring Ohio regulators in these final days before a decision.

Please safeguard market competition and reject FirstEnergy's proposal, so that a utility can no longer cross-subsidize or favor its affiliate companies in order to block competition. Approving the deal would send a clear message to Ohio's businesses, entrepreneurs, investors, and residents: We favor reigning power players and political clout over innovation and competition. Utility profits should not be placed ahead of Ohioans' best interests, and especially not at their personal expense.

If you believe Ohio should have electricity that is clean, reliable, and affordable, please reject FirstEnergy's request.

Thank you,

I'm writing today to ask you to say no to FirstEnergy's request for the PUCO to authorize substantial, customer-funded subsidies to bail out its uneconomic and dirty power plants.

More and more parties -- such as the Ohio Manufacturers Association, Ohio Consumers' Counsel, and AARP -- are now opposing the bailout, but the utility giant and its expensive lawyers and lobbyists are pressuring Ohio regulators in these final days before a decision.

Please safeguard market competition and reject FirstEnergy's proposal, so that a utility can no longer cross-subsidize or favor its affiliate companies in order to block competition. Approving the deal would send a clear message to Ohio's businesses, entrepreneurs, investors, and residents: We favor reigning power players and political clout over innovation and competition. Utility profits should not be placed ahead of Ohioans' best interests, and especially not at their personal expense.

If you believe Ohio should have electricity that is clean, reliable, and affordable, please reject FirstEnergy's request.

I'm writing today to ask you to say no to FirstEnergy's request for the PUCO to authorize substantial, customer-funded subsidies to bail out its uneconomic and dirty power plants.

More and more parties -- such as the Ohio Manufacturers Association, Ohio Consumers' Counsel, and AARP -- are now opposing the bailout, but the utility giant and its expensive lawyers and lobbyists are pressuring Ohio regulators in these final days before a decision.

Please safeguard market competition and reject FirstEnergy's proposal, so that a utility can no longer cross-subsidize or favor its affiliate companies in order to block competition. Approving the deal would send a clear message to Ohio's businesses, entrepreneurs, investors, and residents: We favor reigning power players and political clout over innovation and competition. Utility profits should not be placed ahead of Ohioans' best interests, and especially not at their personal expense.

If you believe Ohio should have electricity that is clean, reliable, and affordable, please reject FirstEnergy's request.

Thank you,

Please safeguard market competition and reject FirstEnergy's proposal, so that a utility can no longer cross-subsidize or favor its affiliate companies in order to block competition. Approving the deal would send a clear message to Ohio's businesses, entrepreneurs, investors, and residents: We favor reigning power players and political clout over innovation and competition. Utility profits should not be placed ahead of Ohioans' best interests, and especially not at their personal expense.

If you believe Ohio should have electricity that is clean, reliable, and affordable, please reject FirstEnergy's request.

Dear Commissioner Johnson,

I'm writing today to ask you to say no to FirstEnergy's request for the PUCO to authorize substantial, customer-funded subsidies to bail out its uneconomic and dirty power plants.

More and more parties -- such as the Ohio Manufacturers Association, Ohio Consumers' Counsel, and AARP -- are now opposing the bailout, but the utility giant and its expensive lawyers and lobbyists are pressuring Ohio regulators in these final days before a decision.

Please safeguard market competition and reject FirstEnergy's proposal, so that a utility can no longer cross-subsidize or favor its affiliate companies in order to block competition. Approving the deal would send a clear message to Ohio's businesses, entrepreneurs, investors, and residents: We favor reigning power players and political clout over innovation and competition. Utility profits should not be placed ahead of Ohioans' best interests, and especially not at their personal expense.

Commissioner Thomas Johnson

Dear Commissioner Johnson,

I'm writing today to ask you to say no to FirstEnergy's request for the PUCO to authorize substantial, customer-funded subsidies to bail out its uneconomic and dirty power plants.

More and more parties -- such as the Ohio Manufacturers Association, Ohio Consumers' Counsel, and AARP -- are now opposing the bailout, but the utility giant and its expensive lawyers and lobbyists are pressuring Ohio regulators in these final days before a decision.

Please safeguard market competition and reject FirstEnergy's proposal, so that a utility can no longer cross-subsidize or favor its affiliate companies in order to block competition. Approving the deal would send a clear message to Ohio's businesses, entrepreneurs, investors, and residents: We favor reigning power players and political clout over innovation and competition. Utility profits should not be placed ahead of Ohioans' best interests, and especially not at their personal expense.

If you believe Ohio should have electricity that is clean, reliable, and affordable, please reject FirstEnergy's request.

Thank you,

Ms. Iris Meltzer

Commissioner Thomas Johnson

Dear Commissioner Johnson,

I'm writing today to ask you to say no to FirstEnergy's request for the PUCO to authorize substantial, customer-funded subsidies to bail out its uneconomic and dirty power plants.

More and more parties -- such as the Ohio Manufacturers Association, Ohio Consumers' Counsel, and AARP -- are now opposing the bailout, but the utility giant and its expensive lawyers and lobbyists are pressuring Ohio regulators in these final days before a decision.

Please safeguard market competition and reject FirstEnergy's proposal, so that a utility can no longer cross-subsidize or favor its affiliate companies in order to block competition. Approving the deal would send a clear message to Ohio's businesses, entrepreneurs, investors, and residents: We favor reigning power players and political clout over innovation and competition. Utility profits should not be placed ahead of Ohioans' best interests, and especially not at their personal expense.

If you believe Ohio should have electricity that is clean, reliable, and affordable, please reject FirstEnergy's request.

Thank you,

Commissioner Thomas Johnson

Dear Commissioner Johnson,

I'm writing today to ask you to say no to FirstEnergy's request for the PUCO to authorize substantial, customer-funded subsidies to bail out its uneconomic and dirty power plants.

More and more parties -- such as the Ohio Manufacturers Association, Ohio Consumers' Counsel, and AARP -- are now opposing the bailout, but the utility giant and its expensive lawyers and lobbyists are pressuring Ohio regulators in these final days before a decision.

Please safeguard market competition and reject FirstEnergy's proposal, so that a utility can no longer cross-subsidize or favor its affiliate companies in order to block competition. Approving the deal would send a clear message to Ohio's businesses, entrepreneurs, investors, and residents: We favor reigning power players and political clout over innovation and competition. Utility profits should not be placed ahead of Ohioans' best interests, and especially not at their personal expense.

If you believe Ohio should have electricity that is clean, reliable, and affordable, please reject FirstEnergy's request.

Thank you,

Mr. Scott Minch

Dear Commissioner Johnson,

I'm writing today to ask you to say no to FirstEnergy's request for the PUCO to authorize substantial, customer-funded subsidies to bail out its uneconomic and dirty power plants.

Just as Oregon has done--quite successfully, for all significant parties--Ohio PUCO should refuse to approve the propping up of failing, dangerous, and increasingly obsolete fossil-fuel burning power plants. If FirstEnergy wishes to remain viable in the future, it must negotiate fair and reasonable partnerships with renewable technology providers. Certainly, its attempts to prevent free market competition must be denied.

More and more parties -- such as the Ohio Manufacturers Association, Ohio Consumers' Counsel, and AARP -- are now opposing the bailout, but the utility giant and its expensive lawyers and lobbyists are pressuring Ohio regulators in these final days before a decision.

Please safeguard market competition and reject FirstEnergy's proposal, so that a utility can no longer cross-subsidize or favor its affiliate companies in order to block competition. Commissioner Thomas Johnson

Dear Commissioner Johnson,

I'm writing today to ask you to say no to FirstEnergy's request for the PUCO to authorize substantial, customer-funded subsidies to bail out its uneconomic and dirty power plants.

More and more parties -- such as the Ohio Manufacturers Association, Ohio Consumers' Counsel, and AARP -- are now opposing the bailout, but the utility giant and its expensive lawyers and lobbyists are pressuring Ohio regulators in these final days before a decision.

Please safeguard market competition and reject FirstEnergy's proposal, so that a utility can no longer cross-subsidize or favor its affiliate companies in order to block competition. Approving the deal would send a clear message to Ohio's businesses, entrepreneurs, investors, and residents: We favor reigning power players and political clout over innovation and competition. Utility profits should not be placed ahead of Ohioans' best interests, and especially not at their personal expense.

If you believe Ohio should have electricity that is clean, reliable, and affordable, please reject FirstEnergy's request.

Thank you,

Mrs. Laura Hazen

More and more parties -- such as the Ohio Manufacturers Association, Ohio Consumers' Counsel, and AARP -- are now opposing the bailout, but the utility giant and its expensive lawyers and lobbyists are pressuring Ohio regulators in these final days before a decision.

Please safeguard market competition and reject FirstEnergy's proposal, so that a utility can no longer cross-subsidize or favor its affiliate companies in order to block competition. Approving the deal would send a clear message to Ohio's businesses, entrepreneurs, investors, and residents: We favor reigning power players and political clout over innovation and competition. Utility profits should not be placed ahead of Ohioans' best interests, and especially not at their personal expense.

If you believe Ohio should have electricity that is clean, reliable, and affordable, please reject FirstEnergy's request.

This is yet another reason why citizens hate Republican politicians. They constantly give more and more of our taxpayer dollars to greedy corporations and this is yet another example of that unethical behavior by the Kasiak administration. Don't bail this corrupt corporation out AT ALL!!!!!!

More and more parties -- such as the Ohio Manufacturers Association, Ohio Consumers' Counsel, and AARP -- are now opposing the bailout, but the utility giant and its expensive lawyers and lobbyists are pressuring Ohio regulators in these final days before a decision.

Please safeguard market competition and reject FirstEnergy's proposal, so that a utility can no longer cross-subsidize or favor its affiliate companies in order to block competition. Approving the deal would send a clear message to Ohio's businesses, entrepreneurs, investors, and residents: We favor reigning power players and political clout over innovation and competition. Utility profits should not be placed ahead of Ohioans' best interests, and especially not at their personal expense.

If you believe Ohio should have electricity that is clean, reliable, and affordable, please reject FirstEnergy's request.

Dear Commissioner Johnson,

I'm writing today to ask you to say no to FirstEnergy's request for the PUCO to authorize substantial, customer-funded subsidies to bail out its uneconomic and dirty power plants.

More and more parties -- such as the Ohio Manufacturers Association, Ohio Consumers' Counsel, and AARP -- are now opposing the bailout, but the utility giant and its expensive lawyers and lobbyists are pressuring Ohio regulators in these final days before a decision.

Please safeguard market competition and reject FirstEnergy's proposal, so that a utility can no longer cross-subsidize or favor its affiliate companies in order to block competition. I'm writing today to ask you to say no to FirstEnergy's request for the PUCO to authorize substantial, customer-funded subsidies to bail out its uneconomic and dirty power plants.

More and more parties -- such as the Ohio Manufacturers Association, Ohio Consumers' Counsel, and AARP -- are now opposing the bailout, but the utility giant and its expensive lawyers and lobbyists are pressuring Ohio regulators in these final days before a decision.

Please safeguard market competition and reject FirstEnergy's proposal, so that a utility can no longer cross-subsidize or favor its affiliate companies in order to block competition. Approving the deal would send a clear message to Ohio's businesses, entrepreneurs, investors, and residents: We favor reigning power players and political clout over innovation and competition. Utility profits should not be placed ahead of Ohioans' best interests, and especially not at their personal expense.

If you believe Ohio should have electricity that is clean, reliable, and affordable, please reject FirstEnergy's request.

Dear Commissioner Johnson,

I hope you will legislate for the good of the public in the matter of rate hikes now sought by First Energy. Of course the company wants to increase its profits by forcing us all to pay for its poor management decisions in the past. We humble ratepayers are depending on you to protect us from this injustice.

Please say no to FirstEnergy's request for the PUCO to authorize substantial, customer-funded subsidies to bail out its uneconomic and dirty power plants.

These energy companies strip money from the companies by over-paying their top executives and don't plow money back into the company to update facilities, and then they expect to be bailed out by Ohioans? There is NO way that PUCO should allow them to balance their budget on the backs of their customers. The company made the bad decisions and they should deal with it without robbing their customers!

If you believe Ohio should have electricity that is clean, reliable, and affordable, please reject FirstEnergy's request.

Commissioner Thomas Johnson

Dear Commissioner Johnson,

I'm writing today to ask you to say no to FirstEnergy's request for the PUCO to authorize substantial, customer-funded subsidies to bail out its uneconomic and dirty power plants.

More and more parties -- such as the Ohio Manufacturers Association, Ohio Consumers' Counsel, and AARP -- are now opposing the bailout, but the utility giant and its expensive lawyers and lobbyists are pressuring Ohio regulators in these final days before a decision.

Please safeguard market competition and reject FirstEnergy's proposal, so that a utility can no longer cross-subsidize or favor its affiliate companies in order to block competition. Approving the deal would send a clear message to Ohio's businesses, entrepreneurs, investors, and residents: We favor reigning power players and political clout over innovation and competition. Utility profits should not be placed ahead of Ohioans' best interests, and especially not at their personal expense.

If you believe Ohio should have electricity that is clean, reliable, and affordable, please reject FirstEnergy's request.

Thank you,

Mr. Daniel Marks

Dear Commissioner Johnson,

I'm writing today to ask you to say no to FirstEnergy's request for the PUCO to authorize substantial, customer-funded subsidies to bail out its uneconomic and dirty power plants.

More and more parties -- such as the Ohio Manufacturers Association, Ohio Consumers' Counsel, and AARP -- are now opposing the bailout, but the utility giant and its expensive lawyers and lobbyists are pressuring Ohio regulators in these final days before a decision.

Please safeguard market competition and reject FirstEnergy's proposal, so that a utility can no longer cross-subsidize or favor its affiliate companies in order to block competition. Approving the deal would send a clear message to Ohio's businesses, entrepreneurs, investors, and residents: We favor reigning power players and political clout over innovation and competition. Utility profits should not be placed ahead of Ohioans' best interests, and especially not at their personal expense.

If you believe Ohio should have electricity that is clean, reliable, and affordable, please reject FirstEnergy's request.

Thank you,

Commissioner Thomas Johnson

Dear Commissioner Johnson,

I'm writing today to ask you to say no to FirstEnergy's request for the PUCO to authorize substantial, customer-funded subsidies to bail out its uneconomic and dirty power plants.

More and more parties -- such as the Ohio Manufacturers Association, Ohio Consumers' Counsel, and AARP -- are now opposing the bailout, but the utility giant and its expensive lawyers and lobbyists are pressuring Ohio regulators in these final days before a decision.

Please safeguard market competition and reject FirstEnergy's proposal, so that a utility can no longer cross-subsidize or favor its affiliate companies in order to block competition. Approving the deal would send a clear message to Ohio's businesses, entrepreneurs, investors, and residents: We favor reigning power players and political clout over innovation and competition. Utility profits should not be placed ahead of Ohioans' best interests, and especially not at their personal expense.

If you believe Ohio should have electricity that is clean, reliable, and affordable, please reject FirstEnergy's request.

Thank you,

Dr. Carole Womeldorf

Dear Commissioner Johnson,

I'm appalled that FirstEnergy wants the taxpayers to bail them out again for bad decisions they have made. THEY ARE A BUSINESS LIKE ANY OTHER BUSINESS - IF THEY HAVE LOSSES, THEY SHOULD BEAR THE COST OF THOSE LOSSES. Why should taxpayers pay anything?

They make millions in profits - THEY CAN AFFORD TO PAY FOR THE LOSSES THEY INCUR. It's not fair to ask to subsidize their losses.

Commissioner Thomas Johnson

Dear Commissioner Johnson,

I'm writing today to ask you to say no to FirstEnergy's request for the PUCO to authorize substantial, customer-funded subsidies to bail out its uneconomic and dirty power plants.

More and more parties -- such as the Ohio Manufacturers Association, Ohio Consumers' Counsel, and AARP -- are now opposing the bailout, but the utility giant and its expensive lawyers and lobbyists are pressuring Ohio regulators in these final days before a decision.

Please safeguard market competition and reject FirstEnergy's proposal, so that a utility can no longer cross-subsidize or favor its affiliate companies in order to block competition. Approving the deal would send a clear message to Ohio's businesses, entrepreneurs, investors, and residents: We favor reigning power players and political clout over innovation and competition. Utility profits should not be placed ahead of Ohioans' best interests, and especially not at their personal expense.

If you believe Ohio should have electricity that is clean, reliable, and affordable, please reject FirstEnergy's request.

Thank you,

Ms. Vickylou S.

Commissioner Thomas Johnson

Dear Commissioner Johnson,

I'm writing today to ask you to say no to FirstEnergy's request for the PUCO to authorize substantial, customer-funded subsidies to bail out its uneconomic and dirty power plants. It is time for lawmakers and regulators to acknowledge that (1) global warming is threatening all of us; (2) the health risks from coal are very serious; (3) it is time for PUCO to stop subsidizing at our expense last century technology; and (4) we must prevent electric companies, who are not operating in a very competitive environment, from getting preferential treatment at PUCO. It really is time for all of us, including Ohio lawmakers, PUCO, the electric companies, and residents to shoulder the responsibilities required to move into the 21st century, to share the burdens, to perform in accordance with the general good, and to clean up our environment.

More and more parties -- such as the Ohio Manufacturers Association, Ohio Consumers' Counsel, and AARP -- are now opposing the bailout, but the utility giant and its lawyers and lobbyists are pressuring Ohio regulators in these final days before a decision. For once, the people of Ohio should be considered in PUCO's decision.

Please safeguard market competition and reject FirstEnergy's proposal, so that a utility can no longer cross-subsidize or favor its affiliate companies in order to block competition. Approving the deal would send a clear message to Ohio's businesses, entrepreneurs, investors, and residents: PUCO favors reigning power players and political clout over innovation and competition. PUCO should not do it. Utility profits should not be placed ahead of Ohioans' best interests, and especially not at their personal expense.

If you believe Ohio should have electricity that is clean, reliable, and affordable, and that much else of great importance is riding on your decision, PUCO will not agree to this handout to the electric company or companies.

Commissioner Thomas Johnson

Dear Commissioner Johnson,

I'm writing today to ask you to say no to FirstEnergy's request for the PUCO to authorize substantial, customer-funded subsidies to bail out its uneconomic and dirty power plants.

More and more parties -- such as the Ohio Manufacturers Association, Ohio Consumers' Counsel, and AARP -- are now opposing the bailout, but the utility giant and its expensive lawyers and lobbyists are pressuring Ohio regulators in these final days before a decision.

Please safeguard market competition and reject FirstEnergy's proposal, so that a utility can no longer cross-subsidize or favor its affiliate companies in order to block competition. Approving the deal would send a clear message to Ohio's businesses, entrepreneurs, investors, and residents: We favor reigning power players and political clout over innovation and competition. Utility profits should not be placed ahead of Ohioans' best interests, and especially not at their personal expense.

If you believe Ohio should have electricity that is clean, reliable, and affordable, please reject FirstEnergy's request.

Thank you,

Subject: Say "No" to AEP

Dear Chairman Porter,

I currently live in a ranch style home and am paying $300+ each month for my electricity. Granted, my home is an all electric structure but, in my opinion, $300+ is quite extravagant considering my family's modest income. I have a house payment and other bills that I pay each month and, at the end of the day, have very little for anything else. I am literally tapped out after all is said and done. I do not have cable television but have the internet because in today's world it is a near necessity to live. I am currently on "so called" even billing with AEP which is a misnomer in itself as my bill is in constant flux. If PUCO grants the wishes of AEP in giving them a rate hike, I am unsure how much longer I will be a home owner which is the dream of every person in this great United States of America and the state of Ohio. I understand that upgrades are a part of giving the people the best possible product out there but putting the cost on the back of the consumer is not acceptable. When a company can pull a profit containing 9 digits in ONE quarter and turn around and dump the cost of improvements on the backs of the consumer there is something very wrong! Where are all of these profits going? I am extremely concerned. I, for one, do not wish to lose what I have worked so hard to get and provide for my family and lose it because a utility company is becoming fat on the backs of their consumers! Trust me when I say that I would like to make upgrades to my home to make it better and more comfortable but I cannot send the bill to someone else and expect them to pay for those upgrades!

Thank you for your time.
