I live at referenced property 52600400012. Otherwise known to me, the owner for the past 30 years , as my home at 8291 ridge rd. it seems that the entire community is just now awakening itself and really understanding the duke energy project and its impact on the communities involved. I myself am just now reading letters dated 2/19/16 and 4/8/16 that were delivered to my house. My wife responded to the first of these letters on 3/3/16 and again on 5/9/16. As I was really unaware of this project and its invasive potential until last night, I have not weighed in on this personally. Now , I understand the project and its impact on the community. It does not and will not serve the local community, and has far reaching geographical goals at the expense of the local populations in terms of safety risks (accidents and explosions in densely populated areas), terrorism risks(running directly through compact area of three synagogues and Jewish community and center), negative environmental impact(directly on the Mill Creek water shed area) , in case of any accident or incident all evacuation routes would be inaccessible , and degradation of quality of life and property values in the affected areas(well beyond the directly adjacent properties which were the only people notified). As for me personally , if the pink line some how could possibly be approved(which is just really hard to see how anyone would approve with even a minimal of study of the impact) my home would immediately be unlivable and unsellable. This is unconscionable of duke and / or the Siting Board to consider this route , or any of the 3 routes really! If this pipe line is necessary , then route it to a much more rural and safe and less destructive area for all the above reasons. It may cost more, but ,duke is a very profitable company and can pay more to "continue to provide benefits for our customers and communities now and for years to come". There will be no person allowed on my lot without consulting me and getting personal written permission from me . The local authorities will be informed of trespassing and take necessary action to remove such trespassers.
