Subject: Case 16-0253-GA-BTX

I am writing in reference to the proposed gas transmission line being proposed by Duke Energy (Case 16- 0253-GA-BTX). It is unimaginable that Duke is considering placing a high-volume, high-pressure 30 inch pipeline in the middle of an urban area. The danger and threat from an accident is too great (for example, the explosions in California and Pennsylvania). The risk to our children, homes, schools, hospitals, first responders, and synagogues and churches is too great to justify the desire of Duke Energy. If a transmission line is needed, place it in a rural area. Our community stands firmly opposed to this proposal.
