Re: Central Corridor Pipeline Extension Project—Hamilton
County, Ohio; 16-0253-GA-BTX

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

I request that you vote to oppose any of these proposed high pressure natural gas transmission line routes through any densely populated area(s), particularly, as has been proposed by Duke Energy in Hamilton County, Ohio.

My household, includes three active voters, all multi-disabled.

One proposed route is along Blue Ash Road, Sycamore Township, Hamilton County, Ohio.

If that route would be approved, my house would be the second residential structure, off the proposed pipeline.

Previous documented history has shown that this type of utility pipeline has fractured, broken, exploded and has caused massive damage where this has transpired in other areas.

It also appears that many of the citizenry and elected governmental entity unit representatives that occupy many of the proposed route areas have been almost “blindsided” by Duke Energy by not even been informed at all of this project proposal until finding out about it from various citizen “watchdogs.”

Surely there must be viable alternative areas such as a more rural or less densely populated area that would be much very better option?!

As proposed this pipeline project would permeate a large area that is home to human being occupied residences, businesses, churches, schools, hospitals, retail outlets, etc., in a large densely populated areas, as well as a massive heavily traversed and used system of transportation corridors.

Each one of these factions alone should justify its cancellation altogether being placed within ANY of their proposed routes.

Please, please, DO NOT approve of ANY of these currently proposed routes by Duke Energy for this high pressure natural gas pipeline extension project!!!

I remain...for now...
