I am writing to register my opposition to the proposed pipeline extension. This is a reckless proposition with potentially disastrous results as seen in California and Pennsylvania.

Routing this pipeline through densely populated residential, school, and commercial areas in the City of Blue Ash appears to be focused on Duke's profitability, ignoring human safety and personal property values. The handling of this project appears to be as high-handed as Duke's recent approach to "tree trimming" on Cooper Road (Blue Ash). Mature trees and vegetation were destroyed with no apparent regard to the impact on personal property and property values.

I urge the Ohio Power Siting Board to eliminate this routing from consideration and to press Duke for options which honestly, morally, and ethically balance profitability, human safety, and quality of life. Surely there are other options to be considered and publicly vetted.

Respectfully,

Bernice Bishop
