COMMENTS: OPSB,

I am writing you as a concerned citizen and resident whose property is within a short distance of the proposed high pressure, high-volume transmission gas pipeline. I am greatly concerned for the safety of my family and other residents and businesses along the transmission line. I know that the possibility of a break and explosion is low in the estimation of Duke Energy but it has happened in the past. If such an event were to happen to this pipeline, thousands of people would be effected and the liability that Duke Energy and this siting board would have would be beyond measure since the dangers had been identified. Also this proposal is without precedence since these lines are not located in densely populated areas.

I know that the alternative proposed pipeline along I275 is a bit longer but it does represent a substantial reduction in risk to the population and liability to Duke and this siting board.

Therefore, I ask you to deny this application and protect the citizens of your state.

Respectfully
