COMMENT DESCRIPTION:

DP&L is requesting a distribution rate increase. Consumers have already paid DP&L for distribution why must we be taxed once again? (I do mean taxed) Prior to the last large thunderstorm which caused outages that lasted +48 hours DP&L made little or no preparatory plans should there be outages. This storm was well publicized and predicted in advance. Why should consumers be responsible for DP&Ls' poor planning? DP&L has a large tree trimming operation. In the recent past, DP&L has resourced the tree trimming to a different company. This company employs illegal aliens, non citizens and "has promised to have one English speaking individual with each crew". Why would we promote such corporate activity by increasing DP&Ls rates? I urge you to not allow a rate increase to DP&L.
