Recently my family has been reduced from a ~~one~~ two person income to a one person income. We are having a tough time keeping up with all of our bills.

I know there is research being done to find different sources of energy to keep costs down.

My daughters Chemistry ~~lab~~^{lab} is experimenting with different sources also.

I'm sure you can up your research to accomidate everyone.

Notes

Dear PUCO

I am opposed to CEI being given extra money for their Nuke Plants.

CEI failed to take advantage of the huge amounts of shale gas available - to convert to gas powered generation of electricity.

Allow the open market to do its magic.

If CEI goes bankrupt so be it. Poor management deserves poor results.

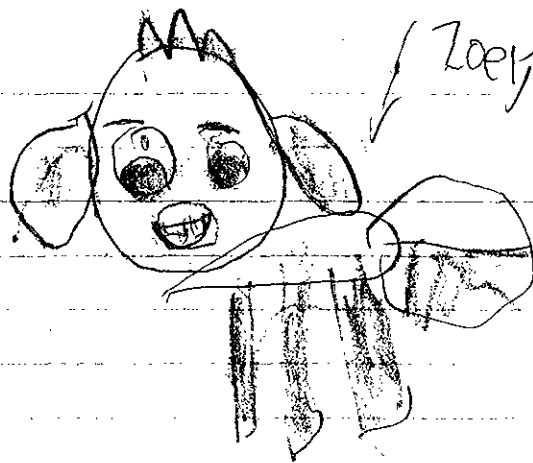

Investing in renewable energy sources as well as using natural gas as a bridge fuel is by far the smartest way to go.

I refuse to subsidize CEI for poor management!

Dear Public Utilities Commission of Ohio,

I am very concerned with the recent proposal to increase the "customer charge". This kind of fixed rate hike unfairly burdens low income households and families who may already be struggling to pay their monthly bills. This rate hike also does not encourage users to cut back on their energy use by using more energy efficient bulbs and appliances. The proposed increase would affect all of us regardless of how much energy we use! We need to be moving toward renewable energy options.

PUCO,

First energy has no business in asking for yet another rate hike for its customers. Whether it is coal or nuclear, they need to stop trying to put the burden on the consumer and to start changing to a more long term business model which embraces more up and coming energy technologies with more sustainability.

I read that a First Energy executive wants this charge to help 'keep electric price fluctuations to a minimum'. How about we start that by NOT approving this flat cost. It is unjust and is not tied to any sort of way that allows homes that conserve energy to benefit from, being it is a monthly flat fee.

Thank you for your attention,

To whom it may concern,

It is very important to myself & my family that we stay within budget. The increase in the cost of energy would change the budget strain & would significantly change our cost of living.

Increasing the rates without the consultation of your customers is unfair & unethical. Having a fixed fee can change the way we are able to provide for our family.

We as a country need clean & efficient energy. This is not the direction we need to be moving.

Respected Sir,

I am a single income family, and we live on a budget every month. A huge increase on our power bill is not fair or doable for our family's budget. We have lot of other expenses that makes it difficult on our family's life.

Instead of increasing the customer charges I would like to invest in energy saving appliances or solar. I think big fees reduce what I can save from making these investments. This is taking away our choice and is the opposite of the direction we should be going on efficiency and clean energy.

Dear Public Utilities Commission of Ohio

I am writting to you about the Customer Charge Increased proposed by FirstEnergy. I am opposed to this increase do to the fact that it is more than twice the current charge. It has been brought to my attention that there is a proposal to increase our electric bill by $18.87 per month in an effort to sustain the current energy system. While I understand the economic reasoning behind this increase, I am not in support of paying extra to maintain a system that is increasingly becoming obsolete. Any increases would be better spent investing in cleaner energy options. Alternatively, not having the increases would make it easier for families to invest in energy efficient appliances. Public Utilities Commission:

I am writing regarding Case # 17-0334-EL-ATA, whereby First Energy would increase mandatory residential fixed fees for electrical service to households throughout the state.

Higher costs for electricity makes absolutely no sense in an economy where the need for energy efficiency is routinely downplayed and marginalized by large corporations such as First Energy. Rather than having consumers such as myself foot the bill for rising energy costs, corporations such as First Energy should be held accountable by governmental agencies and required to devote more significant portions of their budgets to research and development in the interest of energy efficiency. If not held accountable in these ways, it's no surprise that corporations like First Energy will leave consumers holding the bag.

In my household, we do our best to use electricity in smart fashion, in order to keep our electrical bills down. This type of mandated fee flies in the face of personal responsibility and makes efforts along these lines meaningless. No matter how effectively we seek to keep our costs down, First Energy seeks to ratchet them up, due to their own inefficiencies and lack of proactive solutions.

Please do right by Ohio consumers and prevent this unethical and shameful proposal by First Energy from seeing the light of day.

To the Public Utilities Commission:

Your proposed increase of $18.87 / month from the current charge of $6.29 / month is an outrageous abuse of a captive customer base with no choice but to pay or lose our energy service. We are a single-income family and cannot afford such an increase.

I believe in the potential for green energy and its sustainability. Other countries around the world are making gains in this endeavor, making the USA look like a bunch of cavemen with our coal-based energy. It's time to stop hiking prices for coal; we need to focus on sustainable green sources such as wind and solar power.

I have personally created a DIY solar water heater from mostly recycled materials. I have reduced my summer water bill over the past year by a significant margin. If I'm able to do this from YouTube videos, I'm sure the professionals and engineers at FirstEnergy and other public utility companies can come up with more effective ways to reduce the cost of public energy.

I hope you help direct our country and the world in the right direction.

To Whom It May Concern:

It has been brought to my attention that FirstEnergy is considering a customer charge increase for different parts of its service territory (Case no. 17-0334-EL-ATA). This proposed increase would have serious financial consequences on certain Ohio populations: namely, those who are un- or underemployed, or are on a fixed income as a result of retirement, accident/injury, or disability.

I am a public school teacher working with underserved student populations. I currently live with my parents, who are recently retired, to ease all of our financial burdens. Between my aging parents' fixed retirement income and my public school salary, this proposed utility service increase would put a strain on our combined resources.

What would be more effective would be for my family to use what extra income we have to invest in clean energy solutions, such as energy efficient appliances. By forcing a utility increase on families like mine, you are taking away our right to choose what type of energy resources are best for our budget. Ohio should be looking ahead to the future – to clean energy – and away from energy sources such as coal that put enormous strain on our natural environment and individual health. Instead of a utility service increase, we should be investing our financial resources into developing and implementing environmentally-friendly energy resources.

I implore you to reconsider the utility service budget increase, and to instead consider investing in clean energy research and development. The future of our citizens and our state depend on it.

Sincerely,

RE : Case 17-0334-EL-ATA

To Whom it may concern :

Please be advised that with a $150.96 increase of our electric bill each month, our family will not be able to make some of the energy saving upgrades that we were planning.

We had planned on upgrading our appliances to more energy saving appliances but with this increase in our electric bill we may not be able to do so.

This increase will take away our family's choice in going in the right direction for efficiency and clean energy.

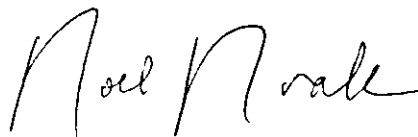

Please consider our family's opinion and many other family's opinion before implementing this increase.

Thank you .

To Whom it may Concern,

I am understanding that CEI want to double the customer Charge. Please help put a stop to this. Our family lives on a budget. I work a commission job with no base pay. Having to pay this extra would mean I would have to put more hours in at work, (I'm there 42 hours/wk already) to make up for this cost increase. While to some this increase is minimal, it would directly impact my time spent with my kids and family.

CASE NUMBER: 17-0334-EL-ATA

To whom it may concern:

Recently I've become more and more concerned about the rising cost of electricity. I'm a widow on a fixed income and the continued ever increasing costs paid to First Energy are becoming more and more difficult to bear. I've tried budgeting for the cost of electricity but the prices increase more frequently than my budget allows. It's a great strain with no additional income expected. An annual small COLA is eaten up by increases in other necessities.

It's going to be even harder to budget with the Presidents tax plan and his proposed changes to health care expected to cost me and others in my age and income bracket more money. What will we do when it comes time to heat our homes in the winter or fill prescriptions? We shouldn't have to make a choice between freezing and staying healthy.

I know there is a better way available to make energy affordable for all. If that includes utilizing solar energy or other sustainable methods then money should be invested in finding other methods of energy. We need to move forward.

Sincerely,

IA

To whom it may concern:

Recently I've become more and more concerned about the rising cost of electricity. I'm a disabled person on a fixed income and the continued ever increasing costs paid to First Energy are becoming more and more difficult to bear. It has been impossible to budget for electricity each month.

It is more difficult each month trying to pay utility bills that are always increasing. First Energy seems to want more and more money all the time. I have to decide how to budget for medical premiums that will inevitably be increasing with the new administration. They want to make me pay more for everything and I won't have money to pay to heat my home in winter months.

I know there is a better way available to make energy affordable for all. I'd be willing to invest in energy saving upgrades. The plan proposed by First Energy seems to be plain old greed. Their plan for big fixed fees reduces what I can save toward any investments in the future of sustainable energy in Ohio.

To the Public Utilities Commission:

Your proposed increase of $18.87 / month from the current charge of $6.29 / month is an outrageous abuse of a captive customer base with no choice but to pay or lose our energy service. We are a single-income family and cannot afford such an increase.

I believe in the potential for green energy and its sustainability. Other countries around the world are making gains in this endeavor, making the USA look like a bunch of cavemen with our coal-based energy. It's time to stop hiking prices for coal; we need to focus on sustainable green sources such as wind and solar power.

I have personally created a DIY solar water heater from mostly recycled materials. I have reduced my summer water bill over the past year by a significant margin. If I'm able to do this from YouTube videos, I'm sure the professionals and engineers at FirstEnergy and other public utility companies can come up with more effective ways to reduce the cost of public energy.

I hope you help direct our country and the world in the right direction.

Please consider families when making your decision to increase our power bill. It would be very difficult to manage an increase in rates into our budget.

We are very interested in energy savings upgrades, like solar energy, and these big fees reduce what can be saved from making these investments. This is the opposite direction we should be going on efficiency and clean energy.

I am a senior citizen on a fixed income. I have to budget my funds. I can not afford any increases in my utilities. I believe I should be able to have a say in controlling increases. I don't think it is fair for big companies to keep raising the prices of our utilities when we don't even use the minimum at all. Just so the big wheels and stock holders can have their parties and salary increases while we pe-sons have to scrimp up our funds. In respect to the case referenced above, I fully support Ohio Citizen Action in protesting the intended increase in "customer charges" proposed by First Energy Corp.

As the husband of a public school teacher and the father of 3 (#4 on the way), I am attest to the dramatic effect such an increase would have on my household. As a family, we work hard to manage our energy consumption, primarily in order to cut costs, but also to demonstrate good stewardship of our natural resources to our children. This would be no reward for our efforts in this regard, to be charged significantly more for the privilege of turning our lights on before we actually do.

I have built an energy efficient home to reduce costs in my energy bills on a monthly basis. Raising the charges in my electric bill will reduce my family's quality of life as you take that extra money from us on a monthly basis.

I would also not be able to afford energy saving upgrades because my additional funds would be applied to the bill inflation.

To Whom it concerns,

I would not like the increase proposed. It is already difficult for families to provide ~~decs~~ to other increases such as ^{cost of} groceries, food, gas etc.

And for us on fixed incomes as senior citizens. There has been no raises in cost of living from 88.

So both groups must make choices about what they can afford. Since Ohio Edison provides electricity for many things - heat/cooling, cooking, laundry, lights, etc.; things we cannot do without. Cost of medicines also is going up in price, so people will probably ~~cut~~ ^{cut} and do ~~out~~ ^{without} many things needed. People of lower income & those without work or food stamps already suffer - having to do without; especially food for the children & clothing.

Please consider a lower increase if one is really needed.

Please reconsider the increase in customer charge fees. An increase of nearly 4x would be challenging for many families to take on. While finding low-cost energy efficient, sustainable alternatives requires funding, there must be enough funding through tax contributions, write-offs, & grant money for the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio. Start operating under the same constraints as the healthcare field. Become more efficient, deliver excellent service, be innovative all while reducing reimbursements, funding, costs, & staff. If we can still save lives in healthcare under this financial restriction, you must be able to find an alternate source for funding as well. Don't pull it from the pockets of families.

I am writing this in regard to the First Energy proposed charge increases.

As a recent retiree, I am living on a fixed income and have to pay my own health insurance premiums because I am not 65 and Medicare eligible. An increase such as this would be catastrophic to me and any other people that live on a fixed income. I would really have to rework my budget and more than likely go without health insurance or in what is supposed to be the best years of my life return to work just to pay the bills, not food on the table just the bills.

These are the years we all look forward to and work so hard to attain and it is big businesses and monopolies like First Energy that have ruined it for anyone of retirement age or status. Let alone young families just starting out.

When will it end??

It has come to our attention that consideration is being made to increase the fixed rate significantly. It is important that all situations be taken into consideration.

I am retired and my husband will be retiring in the next year or two. Following my retirement, our income became partially fixed. In the next year or two, it will become completely fixed. But there are also other considerations. Families living pay to pay with children in the household. Their first concerns are caring for their children and additionally providing them with a good education which is hard to find in the public school systems.

I feel that the current fixed rate is at a level which should be able to sustain the energy company's growth. Also, salaries of high-level salaries should also be reviewed.

Thank you for your time.

I am disappointed to hear of your proposed customer charge increase. I don't know how you can justify such a steep price increase, but I believe that it may be a mistake.

I believe that there would be other ways of dealing with the energy consumption like promoting more solar energy rather than using coal.

An increase would put a burden on many family's that have a hard time making ends meet as it is.

RE: Case No. 17-0334-ATA

To Whom It May Concern,

I am writing to express my opposition to Just Energy's proposed customer charge increases — which triple the current charge.

Such a large increase compromises our family's ability to stay within our budget — which includes saving for retirement in less than 10 years. This is distressing in our current environment which has made programs like Social Security uncertain.

Furthermore, any responsible investments in energy upgrades that both save money and increase clean energy options — good for everyone — are representing less return on those investments, acting as a disincentive. This is the opposite of what we should be doing.

Thank you for your consideration.

I was just informed about the increase in charges that were proposed and I'm very upset. We have a very strict budget that we follow and this would make life a lot more difficult for me than you might think. We barely break even with every thing priced at the rate it is at currently.

We're very interested in upgrading to a cleaner energy source. We do our best to save energy and do what is best for the future. We totally believe that clean energy is what's best today and for tomorrow so please consider this when making future decisions about our energy. Thank you!

Dear First Energy,

Bredley Coyne here writing you to ask that you update your business strategy for more renewable sources of energy.

Uping my cost & still heading towards coal makes me want to jump to a competitor... or even try to produce my own energy.

Currently if I could afford the upfront cost
I would, however being that I cannot finding a company that charge a higher rate with more renewable energy in their business plan would ~~sure~~ surely steal me away from you.

I don't mind paying a higher cost if it is for the best of my world. As at right now it seem as it is the best for your

Dear Public Utilities Commission,

I oppose First Energy's proposed fixed rate increase. The increase is unreasonably large and will present a serious financial hardship for many. In addition, increasing the fixed charge provides no incentive for customers to switch to more energy efficient appliances or cleaner energy because they reap no savings by doing so.

Dear FirstEnergy,

Our family has a very tight budget. By increasing our fees, you would significantly impact our ability to manage that budget and provide for our children.

Please don't increase our costs. Instead, you can invest in alternative sources of renewable energy, thus decreasing the long-term costs to you and your customers.

Thank you for your time and thank you, in advance, for considering alternative ways of energy production.

Dear FirstEnergy,

We are "newish" residents of Shaker Hts., OH. You are our energy providers. Our family has a very tight budget. By increasing our fees, you would significantly impact our ability to manage that budget and provide for our children.

The proposed $151.00 is the equivalent to (the sale price of) a loaf of bread and a dozen eggs per week. Mismanagement on your part runs the risk of denying my family eggs and bread. This is while Mr. Alexander earns, through your company, between $10M and $25M per year (of the equivalent of up to 640,000 loaves of bread and dozens of eggs per week).

I can imagine that it would be easier for executives at FirstEnergy to absorb than for the working (and lower-working) class folks in Cleveland.

Thank you for your time and thank you, in advance, for considering alternative ways to absorb the costs of using a dying method of energy production. With decreased costs of and technological advances in solar, wind, and hydroelectric power, I am confident that FirstEnergy will be positioned to be a cutting edge energy provider well into the 21st century. The faster you get there, the better (and cheaper) it is for all of us.

Dear Public Utilities Commission of Ohio,

I am writing concerning fixed rate charges in Ohio. There are many families on fixed incomes going pay check to pay check. It is hard enough to pay our bills, eat, and live. The disabled are trying to pay for medications, why cause more hardships in our lives by increasing our bills?

I have many chronic illnesses and have to have air conditioning. Our electric is higher than neighbors. Shouldn't our utility companies be helping the people instead of hurting us by raising costs of something we need to live, to breathe?

Please think of citizens like myself before you not only hurt our health (by making us use less of something that keeps us alive), and making it harder for us to live

FirstEnergy-

This proposal is absolutely insane- why would anyone pay this much for electricity they're not even using? To top it off, we're getting this electricity from a company reliant on coal when we should already be living in a country largely reliant on clean energy. Why should I be paying an outrageous sum that could be going towards investing in solar energy or wind turbines? As tax-paying citizens of Ohio we demand that you revoke this senseless proposal.

Members of the Commission,

I write in strong protest of FirstEnergy's proposed customer charge increases.

I have been a dissatisfied customer of the Cleveland Electric Illuminating Company for 47 years, suffering through frequent power outages attributable to inadequate maintenance of transformers and infrequent, and therefore destructive, tree trimming on no schedule. Now they want to treble my monthly customer charge in an attempt to make me, rather than their inadequate managers and deluded shareholders, pay for their mismanagement.

The proposed $18.87 monthly customer charge would make a large and significant dent in my monthly budget, even larger than the increase in my property taxes and insurance. At least I can shop around for lower cost insurance, but not for electricity poorly delivered.

Moreover, the trebling of my customer charge makes any energy saving programs less affordable.

I urge you to deny FirstEnergy's proposed customer charge increases.

Dear Public Utilities Commission of Ohio,

Regarding Case Number 17-0334-EL-ATA

Our family works hard to conserve our energy consumption by:

- Upgrading to more energy efficient appliances whenever possible
- Reducing our consumption

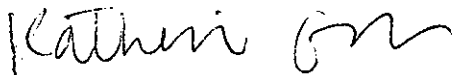

We do this not only to keep our energy costs under control but to help the environment by reducing the amount of pollution that is caused when energy is generated from fossil fuel sources. The large proposed increase in our utility bills will have a detrimental effect on our family of 4 because we won't be able to afford to upgrade to lower energy consumption appliances as frequently since we'll be left with less disposable income. We also have our budget set and a large increase will simply reduce our standard of living. Please stop the rate hike proposed by First Energy.

Sincerely,

To Who This Concerns,

I just learned about First Energy's enormous proposed "Customer Charge" rate increase. My monthly charge would more than triple. Please consider saying no to First Energy. They should not be rewarded for bad business decisions that got them into this mess.

Maybe its time to suggest they spend more money on renewable energy instead of coal.

What is the point of my turning my lights off whenever I leave a room, when I'm getting hit with huge fees no matter what?

Please think twice before green-lighting this astonishing money grab by First Energy.

Dear Public Utilities Commission of Ohio,

I'm stunned to learn that you might permit First Energy to more than TRIPLE my fixed fee! How on earth is anyone supposed to be able to budget for a thing like that?

It's time for First Energy to show respect for both their paying customers and this planet, by investing in greener energy sources. I just retired a powerful 25-year old air conditioner in favor of a new Energy Star model in order to save electricity, and to help the planet, and suddenly it looks like I won't be saving a dime.

There's got to be a better way forward. Please think about the people of Ohio, not just First Energy's bottom line, when you rule on their proposed fixed rate hike.

Thank you.

Dear Commission Members,

I can't believe you might allow First Energy to triple my fixed electric rate with no warning. Maybe if they'd made better business decisions such as investing in renewable energy instead of coal, they wouldn't be in this position. Or do they simply feel entitled to maintain the same level of profit they've made in the past, irregardless of poor business decisions?

Please consider what this will do to my budget. The size of the rate hike they're asking for is astonishing and will plunder my budget.

Re: Case number 17-0334-EL-ATA

The FirstEnergy of Ohio's proposed increase in residential fees is both large and poorly justified. We are frugal users of energy but will be charged a flat fee nonetheless. Seems people have been asked to save energy and now the company has a way of extracting money independent of use.

Re: Case number 17-0334-EL-ATA

The proposed rate hike by FirstEnergy of Ohio represents a long history of short-sighted business practice unfairly passed onto the consumer. Rather than reacting to clear trends in encouraging energy efficiency the proposed flat fee removes incentive and is a clear step backward. If you believe in free enterprise you must allow the buyer some control over the type (source) and amount of energy they purchase.

Sincerely,

Dr. Eric L. Christian

Please consider your objectives to reduce clean air + clean water! They should be top priority, not near the list bottom. Coal fired furnaces put excess polluting in both air + water. Solar has been with us for 40 years and is underused in most areas. Wind is very possible with a lake at our door. Please consider both for our + our children's future.

Please reconsider a flat rate charge increase. This type of "fix" disproportionately hurts those on fixed incomes and with the least resources. It also disincentivizes customers to take measures to reduce their electrical use because any cost savings would be off-set by the proposed monthly charge increase.

A more sustainable and forward looking solution is to invest in more renewable sources of energy; Any lack of forethought to do so should not be passed on to customers now, in this way. A transition to reduced coal reliance will mean some sacrifice, but please consider alternatives that don't pass the burden straight to the captive consumer!

Dear

In regard to: 17-0334-EL-ATA.

Please stop and think about how you are about to affect thousands of lives with these price changes. As you probably already know, your charges will be increasing by more than 300%. What you may not have cared to realize is that approximately one in five people in Cuyahoga county, where

I live, have to live at or below the poverty line. Approximately one in four children live below the poverty line. Your price changes will drastically change what percentage of these already low incomes will have to go toward electricity, instead of things like clothes or food, let alone warm clothes or healthy food.

I am fortunate enough to be supported by my family; as of right now, we are able to live comfortably and securely. However, more than one million Ohio residents can not say the same.

Despite my family's financial security, I can not promise that the use of coal power will pose no threat to us in the future. The use of fossil fuels affects the planet we inhabit, and while I may not be able to tell others what kind of energy they can use, I'd like to have the freedom to choose a cheaper, safer energy source, which large fixed fees take away from me.

Dear Commission:

We live in a historic home in Shaker Heights that is not efficient by today's standards. We bought the home 3 years ago and are interested in continuing to invest in efficiency updates, such as a new air conditioner, new windows, and a new boiler. As young professionals with student loan debt, justification for these improvements is based in a reducing of our monthly energy bill. Increasing fix fees reduce these incentives, and increased fix fees do not motivate people to be smarter about their use of Ohio energy. Please do not increase the fixed rates.

As a young law student trying to get ahead in this economy, it's constant upcharges as the "customer charge" that make it impossible to save & contribute positively to the economy.

Additionally, it is impossible to even plan to invest in energy saving upgrades if all of my additional income is going to these surcharges. By forcing me to pay these charges, you're taking away my ability to choose other energy options. Whether you are against other energy sources or not is not the point. The point is you're inhibiting my free choice in a so-called democracy - & therefore efficiency & clean energy are becoming unobtainable goals.
