Credit Summary

Your Credit Summary highlights the information in your credit file that is most important in determining your credit standing, distilling key credit information into one easy-to-read summary.

Accounts

Lenders usually take a positive view of individuals with a range of credit accounts - car loan, credit cards, mortgage, etc. -- that have a record of timely payments. However, a high debt to credit ratio on certain types of revolving (credit card) accounts and installment loans will typically have a negative impact.

Account Age

Usually it is a good idea to keep your oldest credit account open, as a high average account age generally demonstrates stability to lenders. Also, especially if you have been managing credit for a short time, opening many new accounts will lower your average account age and may have a negative impact.

Inquiries - Requests for your Credit History

Numerous inquiries on your credit file for new credit may cause you to appear risky to lenders, so it is usually better to only seek new credit when you need it. Typically lenders distinguish between inquiries for a single loan and many new loans in part by the length of time over which the inquiries occur. So, when rate shopping for a loan it's a good idea to do it within a focused period of time.

Potentially Negative Information

Late payments, collections and public records can have a negative impact on your credit standing. The more severe they are and the more recent they are, the more negative the potential impact.
