Sirs

I am not against clean air by wind farms but not in our ~~densely~~ populated area.
and so ~~big~~ big there is only one building in Columbus that is taller than the turbine they want to put up in our area.

They are not putting them in our area because the wind is so strange. It's because of the tax break they're getting.
It's money not wind that brings this project here.

Our commissioners could change this but aren't doing what the people that elected them want them to do. They're doing what they personally think.

The size of these turbines alone is because we don't have a great wind pattern on the ground. They have to go so high to get the wind whenever it blows. They have to have back up run by gas when the wind doesn't blow.

My daughter's son-in-law visited a friend in Van Wert and they said the land around them now has really dropped in value. His daughter's new house has a view of a solid row of blinking red lights all night. They had a picture of this.

Van Wert turned down the plan to put more turbines up all together.

This sales pitch, this will be a friend fall for our school is a little in my doubt. The lottery was to be great for our school and nothing has happened.

Several years ago I watched a TV program from Brazil where these blades are made.
They are the length of a football field and it showed special trailer had to be made to transport them to be shipped.
Can you imagine the effort it will take to get these parts to the building site?

Tear up our roads and bridges that won't carry their weight. They say they'll replace all damaged areas.

It's going to cause a very unhappy region of people that will last for years.

Not going to be wonderful for our grandchildren.

In Hawaii there was a farm just sitting there rusting and had killed off bats. The wind should have been strong.

enough at the top of a mountain to work.

Your boards vote is our last hope to stop this Wind Farm.

Sincerely,
