My family has owned 237 acres in Seneca county for hundreds of years. Right now it is being leased to farmers. I had always planned on purchasing the 50 acres of woods and homestead from the family upon retirement so i could start a agricultural tourism business with a couple cabins to BnB to the birders for migration weeks, pumpkin patches and corn maizes. Now that I am 60, that lifelong dream has vanished with the threat of Seneca Wind, Emerson Creek, Apex, Republic Wind and others wanting to build over 300 turbines more than 600 feet tall, eventually ruining the most incredible birding migration IN THE WORLD.. the two week period of migration in april brings more than $40 MILLION dollars to the local north ohio economy (Toledo Blade 06-18)...yes, just two weeks-$40 million!!!) people come from over the whole world..To destroy this in order to provide my tax dollars to out of state llcs so they can destroy my lifelong dream is upsetting to say the least. To believe that wind is efficient and worth destroying this tourism trade that benefits OHIOANS is a lie. We know from experience by looking at France and looking at England that wind farms are not farms but huge industrial machines that destroy the environment and produce little energy at inflated costs. Trespass zoning and ruining the value of others' land so a few individuals can have monetary gain is not the Ohio way. We all know the estimates the projects provide are overinflated at best. Please focus on nuclear and other energy projects that dont destroy the current industries and land that exists in Ohio.
