Subject: Siting Board

My name is David Kirkendall, and I am one of hundreds of citizens in SW Ohio who have testified about Duke's proposed pipeline in our area. Some questions to consider:

1. Have members of the Siting Board been given access to the testimony that has been given on this issue in the recent past? If not, why not?
2. If the Siting Board always votes 'yes' to every utility request, how does the Board justify its existence to the citizens of Ohio?

I urge members of the Board to consider carefully the evidence and legal considerations placed before them on this matter.
