A-13. Company history

Onyx Power & Gas Consulting was formed as a Texas Limited Liability Company Sole Proprietorship under President Kevin Gooden and made effective October 7, 2011 - File Number 801490896. Since 2009, Onyx began serving the needs of consumers from its headquarters in Dallas, TX. Having observed massive industry changes since 2004, Onyx client commitment to educate and to mitigate risk remained steadfast.

When Texas deregulation occurred early 2000, there was a general belief that competitive and open market structures would lead to lower prices. The deregulation of a number of markets occurred during a fundamental shift in the energy industry. As a result, over the past decade the rapid volatility in wholesale energy costs has significantly altered the pricing environment for every individual and business in the United States.

Onyx recognized the need for the development of objective risk management strategies and large-scale hedging programs for natural gas. Over time Onyx has built an impressive client list that includes many of the US largest utility providers.

Public Utilities Commission

Today Onyx remains focused on continuing its expertise in energy risk management for both utility and retail industrial/commercial customers.

Your Loan Risk Rating

767 | Excellent

757 | Very Good

756 | Very Good

- The Equifax Credit Score™ ranges between 280 and 850.
- Higher Scores are viewed more favorably by lenders because they represent a lower risk of delinquency or default.

The Bottom Line: Equifax & TransUnion & Experian

Lenders consider many factors in addition to your score when making credit decisions. However, most lenders would consider you to be a low risk. You may qualify for favorable interest rates and offers from lenders and a variety of credit products may be available to you. If you're in the market for credit, this is what you might expect:

Delinquency Rates*

You should be able to obtain higher than average credit limits on your credit card.

Many lenders may offer you attractive interest rates and offers.

You may qualify for some special incentives and rewards that aren't always offered to the general public.

It is important to understand that your credit score is not the only factor that lenders evaluate when making credit decisions. Different lenders set their own policies and tolerance for risk, and may consider other elements, such as your income, when analyzing your creditworthiness for a particular loan.

Accounts

Lenders usually take a positive view of individuals with a range of credit accounts - car loan, credit cards, mortgage, etc. -- that have a record of timely payments. However, a high debt to credit ratio on certain types of revolving (credit card) accounts and installment loans will typically have a negative impact.

Account Age

Usually it is a good idea to keep your oldest credit account open, as a high average account age generally demonstrates stability to lenders. Also, especially if you have been managing credit for a short time, opening many new accounts will lower your average account age and may have a negative impact.

Inquiries - Requests for your Credit History

Numerous inquiries on your credit file for new credit may cause you to appear risky to lenders, so it is usually better to only seek new credit when you need it. Typically lenders distinguish between inquiries for a single loan and many new loans in part by the length of time over which the inquiries occur. So, when rate shopping for a loan it's a good idea to do it within a focused period of time.

Potentially Negative Information

Late payments, collections and public records can have a negative impact on your credit standing. The more severe they are and the more recent they are, the more negative the potential impact.
