I'm writing to voice my concerns over the concentration of solar farms surrounding the community of Lynchburg in Highland County. I'm disappointed that seemingly at no point during the approval process was it recognized by the powers that be that an entire town would be surrounded by what amounts to industrial land use or even worse it was recognized and ignored. I would ask anyone who disputes the obvious negative effects this industrial construction will have on Lynchburg and its surrounding communities if they would want to live in an area encompassed by chain link fencing topped with barbed wire. Was the concentration of multiple solar farm construction around a single community considered during the approval process? Will it be considered for any current or future applications?
