A-13. Company history

US Energy Consulting Group (USECG) has been in business since Oct. 2010. The intention was to seek licensing and contact with suppliers. Since inception, USECG has been selling energy to clients through licensed brokers with contracts in place. The owner, Laura Edwards, has been in the energy industry since 2007. Her principal business interests as the owner of USECG were to become licensed in all states requiring licensing for energy brokers. At that point, obtain contracts with suppliers and begin to grow USECG into a 10-15 employee company focusing on customer retention and adding other areas of business that complement energy deregulation such as energy auditing and savings.

To date, Ms. Edwards has obtained licensing in other states and has contracted with multiple suppliers.

Exhibit B-2 Experience and Plans

Prior to USECG, the owner has been selling energy since 2007 primarily focused on chain restaurants and convenience stores and working with the energy broker companies she worked for to find the best rate possible. The biggest client was 91 convenient stores using a combined 35 million kwh. The average client she sells is approximately 200,000 kwh and focuses primarily on seriously finding the right supplier with the best rate without worrying about how she is paid. Of course being paid is vital but there are some suppliers who pay a year's usage upfront but that is rarely the right supplier to put a large user with. She focuses on the big picture by developing relationships with each client. They all have her cell phone number and email and know they can reach out to her at anytime.

The manager of USECG focuses on property management companies and mom and pop stores. As he says, it all adds up and they should be saving money as well. The average user is approximately 30,000 kwh. He maintains the same big picture dogma as the owner and stays in touch with his clients, making sure they are happy with their billing, etc. He will be training the sales managers who in turn will be training the sales agents for USECG.

What's NewSmall business taxpayers. For tax years beginning after December 31, 2017, the following apply.

- A small business taxpayer (defined below), may use a method of accounting for inventories that either: (1) treats inventories as nonincidental materials and supplies, or (2) conforms to the taxpayer's financial accounting treatment of inventories.
- A small business taxpayer is not required to capitalize costs under section 263A.

General InstructionsPurpose of Form

Use Form 1125-A to calculate and deduct cost of goods sold for certain entities.

Who Must File

Filers of Form 1120, 1120-C, 1120-F, 1120S, or 1065, must complete and attach Form 1125-A if the applicable entity reports a deduction for cost of goods sold.

Inventories

Generally, inventories are required at the beginning and end of each tax year if the production, purchase, or sale of merchandise is an income-producing factor. See Regulations section 1.471-1. If inventories are required, you generally must use an accrual method of accounting for sales and purchases of inventory items.

Exception for certain taxpayers. A small business taxpayer (defined below), can adopt or change its accounting method to account for inventories in the same manner as material and supplies that are non-incidental, or conform to its treatment of inventories in an applicable financial statement (as defined in section 451(b)(3)), or if it does not have an applicable financial statement, the method of accounting used in its books and records prepared in accordance with its accounting procedures. See section 471(c)(3).

A small business taxpayer claiming exemption from the requirement to keep inventories is changing its method of accounting for purposes of section 481. For additional guidance on this method of accounting, see Pub. 538, Accounting Periods and Methods. For guidance on changing to this method of accounting, see Form 3115 and the Instructions for Form 3115.

Small business taxpayer. A small business taxpayer is a taxpayer that (a) has average annual gross receipts of $25 million or less (indexed for inflation) for the 3 prior tax years, and (b) is not a tax shelter (as defined in section 448(d)(3)). See Pub. 538.Uniform capitalization rules. The uniform capitalization rules of section 263A generally require you to capitalize, or include in inventory, certain costs incurred in connection with the following.

- The production of real property and tangible personal property held in inventory or held for sale in the ordinary course of business.
- Real property or personal property (tangible and intangible) acquired for resale.
- The production of real property and tangible personal property for use in its trade or business or in an activity engaged in for profit.

A small business taxpayer (defined above) is not required to capitalize costs under section 263A. See section 263A(i).

See the discussion on section 263A uniform capitalization rules in the instructions for your tax return before completing Form 1125-A. Also see Regulations sections 1.263A-1 through 1.263A-3. See Regulations section 1.263A-4 for rules for property produced in a farming business.

What's NewSmall business taxpayers. For tax years beginning after December 31, 2017, the following apply.

- A small business taxpayer (defined below), may use a method of accounting for inventories that either: (1) treats inventories as nonincidental materials and supplies, or (2) conforms to the taxpayer's financial accounting treatment of inventories.
- A small business taxpayer is not required to capitalize costs under section 263A.

General InstructionsPurpose of Form

Use Form 1125-A to calculate and deduct cost of goods sold for certain entities.

Who Must File

Filers of Form 1120, 1120-C, 1120-F, 1120S, or 1065, must complete and attach Form 1125-A if the applicable entity reports a deduction for cost of goods sold.

Inventories

Generally, inventories are required at the beginning and end of each tax year if the production, purchase, or sale of merchandise is an income-producing factor. See Regulations section 1.471-1. If inventories are required, you generally must use an accrual method of accounting for sales and purchases of inventory items.

Exception for certain taxpayers. A small business taxpayer (defined below), can adopt or change its accounting method to account for inventories in the same manner as material and supplies that are non-incidental, or conform to its treatment of inventories in an applicable financial statement (as defined in section 451(b)(3)), or if it does not have an applicable financial statement, the method of accounting used in its books and records prepared in accordance with its accounting procedures. See section 471(c)(3).

A small business taxpayer claiming exemption from the requirement to keep inventories is changing its method of accounting for purposes of section 481. For additional guidance on this method of accounting, see Pub. 538, Accounting Periods and Methods. For guidance on changing to this method of accounting, see Form 3115 and the Instructions for Form 3115.

Small business taxpayer. A small business taxpayer is a taxpayer that (a) has average annual gross receipts of $25 million or less (indexed for inflation) for the 3 prior tax years, and (b) is not a tax shelter (as defined in section 448(d)(3)). See Pub. 538.Uniform capitalization rules. The uniform capitalization rules of section 263A generally require you to capitalize, or include in inventory, certain costs incurred in connection with the following.

- The production of real property and tangible personal property held in inventory or held for sale in the ordinary course of business.
- Real property or personal property (tangible and intangible) acquired for resale.
- The production of real property and tangible personal property for use in its trade or business or in an activity engaged in for profit.

A small business taxpayer (defined above) is not required to capitalize costs under section 263A. See section 263A(i).

See the discussion on section 263A uniform capitalization rules in the instructions for your tax return before completing Form 1125-A. Also see Regulations sections 1.263A-1 through 1.263A-3. See Regulations section 1.263A-4 for rules for property produced in a farming business.

Self-reported data is contributed through your Experian account. The account number listed on your Experian credit file is a tracking number generated by Experian—not the account number at your bank or payee. Original creditor is the source of your self-reported data (your bank) and the payee (the company to which you pay your bills). The balance and monthly payment reflect the most recent payment recorded at your bank.

Credit scores

FICO® Score 8

Your score is near or slightly above the average of U.S. consumers and most lenders consider this a good score.

What's helping

- ✓ No serious delinquency

There is no evidence of a serious delinquency (90 days past due or greater) or derogatory indicator on your credit report.

Number of your accounts that were ever 90 days late or worse: 0 accounts

Virtually no FICO High Achievers have a 90 days late payment or worse listed on their credit report.

The presence of delinquencies or derogatory indicator in a credit report is a powerful predictor of future payment risk. People with no previous late payments are much more likely to pay on time in the future.

- ✓ Low revolving credit usage

You've limited the use of your available revolving credit.

Ratio of your revolving balances to your credit limits: 1%

For FICO High Achievers, the average ratio of the revolving account balances to credit limits is less than 7%.

FICO® Scores evaluate the total revolving account balances in relation to the total credit limits on those accounts. People who keep their ratio of balances to credit limits low pose less risk to lenders than those with higher ratios.

- ✓ Long credit history

You have an established credit history.

Your oldest account was opened: 38 Years, 8 Months ago

FICO High Achievers opened their oldest account 25 years ago, on average.

Average age of your accounts: 11 Years, 1 Month

Most FICO High Achievers have an average age of accounts of 9 years or more.

FICO® Scores measure the age of the oldest account and the average age of all accounts being reported. Generally speaking, having a relatively long credit history and not opening many new accounts is reflective of lower risk.

What's hurting

- Bad payment history

You have one or more accounts showing missed payments or derogatory indicators.

Number of your accounts with a missed payment or derogatory indicator: 2 accounts

About 98% of FICO High Achievers have no missed payments at all. But of those who do, the missed payment happened nearly 4 years ago, on average.

The presence of missed and late payments or derogatory indicators on a credit report, including the number of late payments, how late they were and how recently they occurred, are correlated with future credit risk. Your FICO® Score was lowered due to the number of missed and late payments and/or accounts with derogatory indicators reported. As the number of accounts with delinquency or derogatory indicators decreases, they have less impact on a FICO® Score.

- Loan balances

The remaining balance on your mortgage or non-mortgage installment loans is relatively high.

Percentage of principal you have paid down on your open non-mortgage installment loans: 0%

FICO High Achievers have paid down an average of 40% of the principal on their non-mortgage installment loans.

FICO® Scores weigh the amounts paid down and balances of mortgage and non-mortgage installment loans (such as auto or student loans) against the original loan amounts. In general, when an installment loan is first obtained the balance is high. As the loan is paid down, the balance decreases. As installment loan balances decrease, they have less impact on a FICO® Score. Having a low installment loan balance to loan amount ratio is considered slightly less risky than having a 0% installment loan ratio. Consolidating or moving debt from one account to another will usually not help a FICO® Score since the same total amount is owed and the score may go down due to opening a new account.

FICO® Score 2

This is a previous FICO® Score version used primarily in mortgages lending. It may also be used by some lenders for other credit product application evaluations (such as credit cards, personal loans, retail credit, student loans, etc.).

What's hurting

— Recent missed payment

You recently missed a payment or had a derogatory indicator reported on your credit report.

The presence of missed or late payments or derogatory indicators on a credit report, including the number of missed payments, how late they were and how recently they occurred, are correlated with future credit risk. Generally speaking, people who consistently pay their bills on time are less risky compared to people with recently missed payments. As missed payments age, they have less impact on a FICO® Score.

— Accounts with balances

You have too many credit accounts with balances.

The FICO® Score considers the number of accounts on a credit report showing a balance. Generally speaking, carrying fewer accounts with balances is considered less risky. Your credit report may show a balance on credit cards even if they're paid in full each month. The total balance of the last statement is typically the amount shown on a credit report.

— Bad payment history

You have one or more accounts showing missed payments or derogatory indicators.

The presence of missed and late payments or derogatory indicators on a credit report, including the number of late payments, how late they were and how recently they occurred, are correlated with future credit risk. Your FICO® Score was lowered due to the number of missed and late payments and/or accounts with derogatory indicators reported. As the number of accounts with delinquency or derogatory indicators decreases, they have less impact on a FICO® Score.

— Seeking credit

You've recently been looking for credit.

Each time you apply for credit a credit inquiry is added to your credit report. People who are actively seeking credit pose more of a risk to lenders than those who are not. Your FICO® Score was lowered due to the number of credit inquiries posted within the last 12 months. While being considered by the score, typically, the presence of inquiries on a credit file carries much less importance than late payments, the amount owed and the length of time credit has been established.

FICO® Auto Score 2

This is a previous FICO® Score version customized for auto lending. Many banks, auto dealers and other lenders use this version when pulling your credit report based on Experian data.

— Short revolving history

You have not established a long revolving and/or open-ended account credit history.

People with longer credit histories who infrequently open new accounts generally pose less risk to lenders. In your case, the age of your oldest revolving and/or open-ended account and/or the average age of your revolving and/or open-ended accounts is relatively low.

FICO® Bankcard Score 2

This is a previous FICO® Score version that is customized for credit card lending. Many credit card issuers use this version when pulling your credit report based on Experian data.

What's hurting

— High revolving balances

The amount owed on your revolving and/or open-ended accounts is too high.

FICO® Scores evaluate how much is owed on revolving and/or open-ended accounts, such as credit cards. Generally, the more owed on these accounts, the greater the risk posed to lenders. Note, consolidating or moving debt from one account to another will usually not change the total amount owed.

— Accounts with balances

You have too many credit accounts with balances.

About your FICO® Score 8 or other FICO® Scores

Your FICO® Score 8 powered by Experian data is formulated using the information in your credit file at the time it is requested. Many but not all lenders use FICO® Score 8. In addition to the FICO® Score 8, we may offer and provide other base or industry-specific FICO® Scores (such as FICO® Auto Scores and FICO® Bankcard Scores). The other FICO® Scores made available are calculated from versions of the base and industry-specific FICO® Score models.

Base FICO® Scores (including the FICO® Score 8) range from 300 to 850. Industry-specific FICO® Scores range from 250-900. Higher scores represent a greater likelihood that you'll pay back your debts so you are viewed as being a lower credit risk to lenders. A lower FICO® Score indicates to lenders that you may be a higher credit risk. There are many scoring models used in the marketplace. The type of score used, and its associated risk levels, may vary from lender to lender. But regardless of what scoring model is used, they all have one purpose: to summarize your creditworthiness. Keep in mind that your score is just one factor used in the application process. Other factors, such as your annual salary and length of employment, may also be considered by lenders when you apply for a loan.

What this means to you:

Credit scoring can help you understand your overall credit rating and help companies better understand how to serve you. Overall benefits of credit scoring have included faster credit approvals, reduction in human error and bias, consistency, and better terms and rates for American consumers through reduced costs and losses for lenders. Your lender or insurer may use a different FICO® Score than FICO® Score 8 or other base or industry-specific FICO® Scores provided by us, or different scoring models to determine how you score.
