RE: Kingwood Solar Project Application for a Certificate of Environmental Compatibility and Public Need – Notice of Proposed Major Utility Facility

Dear «SALUTATION»,

We are contacting you to provide you with additional information about the upcoming Kingwood Solar Project (the "Project") public and adjudicatory hearings. The public hearing, along with the adjudicatory hearing, are a standard part of the Ohio Power Siting Board process for solar projects above 50 megawatts. This letter is the second public notice as required by Rule 4906-3-09(A)(2) of the Ohio Administrative Code. The initial notice of this application was by letter dated September 9, 2021 and September 14, 2021 and was published in the Xenia Gazette, Fairborn Daily Herald, and Yellow Springs News on September 9, 2021.

About the Project

Kingwood Solar I LLC ("Kingwood Solar"), a subsidiary of Vesper Energy, proposes to develop, build, and operate the Project, an up to 175 megawatt solar-powered electric generation facility to be located in Greene County, Ohio. The general purpose of the Project is to maximize energy production from solar resources to deliver clean, renewable electricity to the regional transmission system. The Project will be located within an area of approximately 1,500 acres and will consist of solar panel generators, as well as access roads, 34.5 kilovolt (kV) electrical collector cables, a meteorological station, a facility substation, and a 138-kV electric generation tie (gen-tie) line that will connect to a utility-owned switchyard. The Project is anticipated to positively impact the local economy by producing significant tax revenue and other economic benefits for the area. A map showing the location and general layout of the Project is below.

Kingwood Solar's Application to the Ohio Power Siting Board

Kingwood Solar has filed with the Ohio Power Siting Board (Board) an application for a Certificate of Environmental Compatibility and Public Need to construct, operate, and maintain the Project in Case No. 21-0117-EL-BGN, which is now pending before the Board.

Notification of Public Hearings

The public hearing for this proceeding shall consist of two parts:

- 1. A local public hearing, pursuant to R.C. 4906.08(C), where the Board shall accept written or oral testimony from any person, commencing November 15, 2021, at 6:00 p.m., in the Assembly Hall of the Greene County Expo Center, 120 Fairground Rd., Xenia, Ohio 45385; and
- 2. An adjudicatory hearing to commence on December 13, 2021, at 10:00 a.m., 11th Floor, Hearing Room 11-A, at the offices of the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio, 180 East Broad Street, Columbus, Ohio 43215-3793. To participate in the adjudicatory hearing, intervention in the case is necessary.

The Board has also issued guidelines for attendance at the hearings: Consistent with Centers for Disease Control and Prevention Guidelines and the May 17, 2021 Ohio Department of Health Order, attendees must abide by mitigation measures required by the venue, and individuals who are not fully vaccinated should continue to wear a face covering and socially distance. The public will be given an opportunity to comment on the proposed Project.

NOTICE OF PROPOSED MAJOR UTILITY FACILITY

Kingwood Solar I LLC ("Kingwood Solar"), a subsidiary of Vesper Energy, proposes to develop, build, and operate the Kingwood Solar Project (the "Project"), an up to 175 megawatt solar-powered electric generation facility (Facility) to be located in Cedarville, Miami, and Xenia Townships, Greene County, Ohio. The general purpose of the Project is to maximize energy production from solar resources to deliver clean, renewable electricity to the regional transmission system. The Project will be located within an area of approximately 1,500 acres and will consist of solar panel generators, as well as access roads, 34.5 kilovolt (kV) electrical collector cables, a meteorological station, a facility substation, and a 138-kV electric generation tie (gentie) line that will connect to a utility-owned switchyard. The Project is anticipated to positively impact the local economy by producing significant tax revenue and other economic benefits for the area. A map showing the location and general layout of the Project is below.

Kingwood Solar has filed with the Ohio Power Siting Board (Board) an application for a Certificate of Environmental Compatibility and Public Need to construct, operate, and maintain the Project in Case No. 21-0117-EL-BGN, which is now pending before the Board. The initial notice of this application was by letter dated September 9, 2021 and September 14, 2021 and was published in the Xenia Gazette, Fairborn Daily Herald, and Yellow Springs News on September 9, 2021.

The public will be given an opportunity to comment on the proposed Project. The public hearing for this proceeding shall consist of two parts:

- A local public hearing, pursuant to R.C. 4906.08(C), where the Board shall accept written or oral testimony from any person, commencing November 15, 2021, at 6:00 p.m., in the Assembly Hall of the Greene County Expo Center, 120 Fairground Rd., Xenia, Ohio 45385; and
- 2. An adjudicatory hearing to commence on December 13, 2021, at 10:00 a.m., 11th Floor, Hearing Room 11-A, at the offices of the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio, 180 East Broad Street, Columbus, Ohio 43215-3793. To participate in the adjudicatory hearing, intervention in the case is necessary.

The Board has also issued guidelines for attendance at the hearings: Consistent with Centers for Disease Control and Prevention Guidelines and the May 17, 2021 Ohio Department of Health Order, attendees must abide by mitigation measures required by the venue, and individuals who are not fully vaccinated should continue to wear a face covering and socially distance.

'One More Day'

there was time."

After 12 years as editor of the News, Chiddister retired in 2018. Following years of regular writing, it was a big change, she said — and one she felt she should meet with a challenge.

"I quickly realized I needed a project, something big — and a novel was what came to mind," she said.

Chiddister decided to try her hand at National Novel Writing Month, or NaNoWriMo, an event held each November since 1999 that challenges writers to produce at least 50,000 words in just 30 days. At the end of the month, NaNoWriMo participants who finish the task have a completed novel in their hands — or, realistically speaking, a rough draft.

"So I went through that process — and it worked in that I got a really, really bad first draft of a novel — but it wasn't this novel," Chiddister's first draft of a novel was spurred by her experiences during 9/11 she had been staying in New York City on Sept. 11, 2001. The images from that day were "seared" in her mind, she said — but after the draft was finished, she said she realized she should perhaps aim for "something a little smaller."

"So I thought, 'OK, I need another novel - and then I discovered that National Novel Writing Month can be not only any month, but any day," she said.

"Another novel" eventually became "One More Day," which focuses on the residents and employees of Grace Woods, a longterm care facility, and deals with aging, dementia and death among the particularities of life and work there. Chiddister said the novel came from "a place, emotionally, that was really hard" — she had just experienced the death of a dear friend, villager Mary Donahoe.

"It was sort of like I had to dig myself up out of this hole," she said. "I think fiction helps you to maybe come to terms with things that are hard, and I felt like I was trying to come to terms with Mary's death, a little bit."

The novel's choice of setting was inspired by Chiddister's own life: her first job out of college was as an aide in a care facility, and her mother lived at Friends Care Community for a few years. She said that, despite the sometimes negative associations people make with long-term care facilities, they've long been of interest to her.

"There's no denying the heartbreak, and yet they're fascinating," she said. "There's so much love there — to me it kind of buoys everything up."

Chiddister writes Grace Woods Care Center's residents and staff to the tempo of their daily patterns: from meals to visits from family, from break room gossip to visits from corporate suits. Crucial to this daily flow is Sally, an aide who Chiddister said was based on one of her mother's caregivers at Friends Care.

"The aides are really the people who give the most care, and this woman was so full of joy and love and she was just an interesting person," she said.

Another of the book's focal characters is Lillian, and the chapters dedicated to Writer and former YS News editor Diane Chiddister's novel, One More Day, was released earlier this month. She will read from her work Friday, Oct. 29, 7–9 p.m., at the Senior Center.

her point of view are shaped and colored by the onset of dementia. Though fear and confusion sometimes accompany Lillian's perspective, there is also room for some wry humor — which Chiddister said was inspired by her mother's own brush with dementia. Though Lillian isn't a straight facsimile of her mother, Chiddister said, the character's experience mirrors her mother's in that it's multi-faceted.

"A new side of [my mother] was coming through — dementia opened her up a little bit," she said. "The heartbreak was there, but it wasn't only bad."

Chiddister said this understanding was at the heart of her approach to the book as a whole: A more finely wrought look at aging and death beyond just fear and grief.

"I don't have an easy view of death, but I wanted to find some moments of grace," she said.

She pointed to another of the novel's main characters, Thomas, a curious and intelligent resident of Grace Woods in his 80s who meditates on his life and inevitable death. Writing Thomas, she said, has helped her understand that aging is a time of emotional richness.

"There is so much of everything — more of loss and sadness, yes, but also surprise and joy and forgiveness, and more," she said. "It's just such a rich and intense time of life. Thomas ... is feeling this, and it's something I hope to convey.

An author's reading of "One More Day will be held Friday, Oct. 29, beginning at 7 p.m., in the Senior Center great room, with discussion to follow the reading. The novel is available at Epic Books and Dark Star Books and Comics in Yellow Springs.
