Section D: Applicant Technical Capacity

D-1. Operations

Power brokers/aggregators: Include details of the applicant's business operations and plans for arranging and/or aggregating for the supply of electricity to retail customers.

Operations Description: Managed by our CEO, our current business operations consists of a team of 2 Operations individuals, an Operations Architect and an Operations Manager. These two individuals are responsible for the backend operations and day-to-day communication between our business development managers, our energy suppliers, and contracting with our commercial clients. Our current plan for arranging and/or aggregating for the supply of electricity to retail customers is running an RFP between all the energy suppliers we have in our portfolio within that specific utility. In many cases, our team is trained to price each account with discrete pricing first with the exception that the commercial account is too small, then our team will utilize matrix pricing options. When all the electricity bids come back, our operations team put together all offers from all suppliers in an RFP format disclosing our margin where most of our clients typically look between 12, 24, 36, 48, and 60 month options. From there, our retail customers make a selection on which option they want, and our operations team will request that term/rate from the winning supplier. Once the winning supplier provides us with that agreement, our operations team then sends it out to the client via DocuSign. Once executed, our operations team sends it to the supplier for a counter-signature. For aggregations, we have a similar format, but with multiple decision-makers, and these can be a little bit more complex. We mirror a similar approach as we would with just the one account and sending it to the energy suppliers that want to participate in the aggregation. However, we will have multiple rounds of presenting the offers and often run into aggregations where certain accounts want to be removed and/or certain accounts want to be added. The objective is to group commercial customers who have the same risk appetite together and help them come to an agreement on a specific rate and term. Once agreed, we'll go to contract with the winning supplier and execute electronically via DocuSign.

D-2. Operations Expertise & Key Technical Personnel

Public Utilities Commission

Given the operational nature of the applicant's business, provide evidence of the applicant's experience and technical expertise in performing such operations. Include the names, titles, e-mail addresses, and background of key personnel involved in the operations of the applicant's business.

Operations Expertise & Personnel Description: TMGES, INC., d/b/a Ananta Energy Source's key personnel with the most experience and expertise would be Merrill Mangalasseril, CEO (merrillm@goananta.com; 630.677.7499) and Drew Pickering, Operations Architect (drew@goananta.com; 414.732.4869). Mangalasseril's background in the industry has surpassed 15 years and having a 5 year foundation between two energy procurement companies, the roles and titles Mangalasseril served provided him with a handful of years of working hand-in-hand with energy operations and his respective teams. When beginning TMGES, INC d/b/a Ananta Energy Source, Mangalasseril was in charge of handling his company's operations for the first 4 years on his own; hence, he's already fulfilled this role for quite some time and handling day-to-day communication between multiple suppliers, agents, and retail consumers without the technology the company has today. Mangalasseril's first 4 years in operations laid the ground work for our operations processes today at TMGES, INC d/b/a Ananta Energy Source. Pickering has been with the company since December 2018 and since then, has been the backbone of operations everyday. His understanding of this role is very advanced where he's developing our database, building our customized CRM (customer relationship management) software, and helping us automate several steps in operations allowing us to scale with less. To further elaborate, Pickering is a highly skilled coder/developer whose main responsibility is to identify inefficiencies in our operations process and find ways to enhance it and automating specific steps and procedures along the way. This allows us to communicate with specific energy suppliers at a different level when it comes to building reports and cross referencing data with them. From a client facing side, Pickering is enabling the company and their clients have more visibility with all their client data, number of accounts, entities, rates, expiration dates, renewals, aggregations, and so on. TMGES, INC., also does work with an third party vendor, Abby Magtulis (abby@goananta.com; +63 919 008 2377) and utilizes her Home Office Services since May 2019. What started part-time with Magtulis has grown into our Operations Manager working directly with Pickering and Mangalasseril almost on a daily basis. For operations' activities, all 3 individuals are involved in day-to-day interaction with agents, energy suppliers, and customers. From price requests, data collection, margin adjustments, contract execution, and agent commissions, all 3 individuals are involved. All 3 individuals share each others roles with Pickering and Magtulis managing a bulk of the behind-the-scenes work.

Assumptions

1. Total Energy Sales in Ohio for the current year (2021) are estimated to be $172,430.61, which is approximately 33% of our Total Energy Sales volume ($547,383.89) between the markets we are active in outside of Ohio (ie: IL, TX, MD, PA, etc).
2. Total Energy Sales in Ohio for forecast YR 1 (2022) and YR 2 (2023) are increasing by 15% by increased demand we are seeing from current clients growing their business portfolio requiring additional energy contracts and our current clients' references that consistently call us for their upcoming renewals in Ohio.
3. Total Expenses in Ohio for the current year (2021) are estimated to be $158,331.31, which is a sum of approximately 33% of expenses shared between all markets were active in + Some expense allocated specifically to Ohio for (agent commissions, OH events, OH Travel, etc)
4. Total Expenses in Ohio for forecast YR 1 (2022) and YR 2 (2023) are going to decrease by 15% in YR 1, and 5% in YR 2 with the assumption that we're scaling back in both Marketing and Wages the next two years. We experimented in 2021 by adding a Marketing Manager & Operations Assistant to our team, but both are no longer with us and we will be scaling back with these two roles in the near future until further notice. This will have a big impact on helping us save 15% in expenses for salaries, marketing events/collateral, and travel These expenses will help us reduce our total expenses in YR 1, and then finding additional savings in YR2 in some of the other areas like Legal, Rent, Office Supplies will be made. Several expenses will remain the same as they are normally subscriptions and/or cost to do business.
