h. Selective Call Acceptance (cont'd.)

from a touch-tone phone, or 1164 from a rotary-dial phone, to activate the service. Each incoming call is then checked against the customer's Selective Call Acceptance screening list.

i. Selective Call Forwarding

Allows customers to create a special list of up to thirty-two (32) telephone numbers and a destination number through an interactive dialing sequence. By dialing *63 from a touch-tone phone, or 1163 from a rotary dial phone, the customer activates the service. Only incoming calls from numbers appearing on the list will be forwarded to the predetermined remote station.

j. Selective Distinctive Ringing

Allows customers to designate several numbers that will be recognized immediately as important calls by means of distinctive alerting signal. Up to thirty-two (32) numbers may be added to the screening list through an interactive dialing sequence. The customer then dials *61 from a touch-tone phone, or 1161 from a rotary dial phone, and activates the service. When the incoming call is identified as one of the numbers on the list, a distinctive ring will be produced in the customer's telephone to alert them that an important call is coming in. If the customer is using the phone and one of the selected numbers comes through on Call Waiting, the customer will receive a distinctive call waiting signal to let them know an important call is awaiting him.

k. Anonymous Call Rejection

Allows the customer to reject those calls from which a privacy indicator is received (i.e., where the calling party chose to keep his number private). The calling party will receive a recorded announcement indicating that the person they are calling does not wish to receive calls from callers who choose to block their number.

H. CUSTOM LOCAL AREA SIGNALING SERVICES (CLASS) (CONT'D)

1. Call Waiting/Caller ID with Name

This combined service provides the customer with the name and telephone number of the person trying to reach him while the customer is on another call. As with the Caller ID with Name service, the calling party may use per call blocking or subscribe to per line blocking services which will prevent the disclosure of his telephone number and name. In such instances, a privacy indication will appear on the customer-provided display device instead of the calling party's telephone number and name. Subscription to both Call Waiting and Caller ID with Name is required.

2. Custom Local Area Signaling Services (CLASS) cannot be functional unless both the called and calling parties are served by, and the call is routed through, appropriately-equipped central offices, and routed over appropriately-equipped facilities for calls between such equipped central offices.

Telemarketers are prohibited from blocking the disclosure of their telephone number when placing calls. Upon receiving complaints that a telemarketer is blocking the disclosure of its telephone number, the Company will investigate the complaints and terminate the 8 number blocking service where appropriate.
