

AEP Energy, Inc.

Exhibit C-10

Corporate Structure

American Electric Power (NYSE:AEP) separated its AEP Ohio-owned generation assets from its Ohio distribution and transmission operations and completed the transfer of that generation effective December 31, 2013 to AEP Generation Resources, Inc., AEP's competitive generation company.

The new umbrella competitive entity is AEP Energy Supply, Inc. that consists of three separate entities: AEP Generation Resources, Inc., AEP Energy Partners, Inc., and AEP Energy, Inc. AEP Energy Partners sells power in the deregulated Electric Reliability Council of Texas (ERCOT) market, primarily to municipal electric systems and rural electric cooperatives and to its retail energy supplier, AEP Energy, Inc.

AEP Energy, Inc. provides competitive electric supply for retail customers in the District of Columbia, Delaware, Illinois, Maryland, New Jersey, Ohio and Pennsylvania. AEP Energy, Inc. also provides energy solutions, including demand response and energy efficiency services, nationwide. (see also attached chart).
